

April

3/4/5 - Room 218

PSMS29 - The Melrose School

Dear families,

I hope everyone had a relaxing and enjoyable spring break! It was great to see your students again after so many days away from them. This month is one filled with lots of work at school. The ELA state test is 4/11 and 4/12 and the math state test comes at the beginning of May. Please continue sending your child to school each day!

Mr. Wagner

Reading & Writing

In reading, your child is going to start meeting new and exciting characters and learning lessons right alongside them. In writing, your child will begin to take ownership over their own work and begin independent writing projects - choosing the kind of writing they like best and showing off all they can do!

Math

In math, your child is beginning to learn all about fractions. As we continue heading towards the state test at the beginning of May, please practice addition, subtraction, multiplication and division facts with your student at home. This will only help them when it comes to the day of the test.

Reminders

PLEASE sign any permission slips that have been sent home!

Next field trip: April 17th - American Museum of Natural History!

MATH State Test: May 1 + May 2
