

SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING

February 2021

*This month at Franklin Avenue
our lessons focused on Empathy*

We strongly believe that developing a sense of empathy is an important developmental process for young children, one that can benefit them not only in childhood but well into adult life.

During this month's Social Emotional Learning Lessons students will practice how to understand each other's feelings and different perspectives. This will foster friendships based on positive relationships of trust.

In Kindergarten:

Students will be asked to identify feelings in different situations.

In 1st and 2nd grade:

Students will recognize the feelings and perspectives of other and will brainstorm ways to react to how someone is feeling.

In 3rd and 4th grade:

Students will practice identifying the emotions of others which will create positive and supportive relationships with other students by increasing social awareness.

At home extension activity

Stand in my Shoes by: Bob Sornson

We hope that you can read this with your child and discuss the value in noticing how others feel.

Anna Piplica-School Psychologist

mccabee@pearlriver.org

Natalie Cervantes-School Social Worker

cervantes-libassin@pearlriver.org