

Watermelons

---

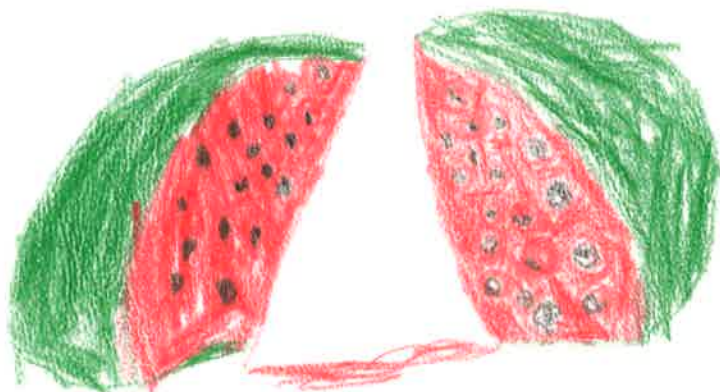

Watermelons have skin.

Watermelons sometimes have stripes on their skin.

Watermelons are very juicy.

Watermelons can have a lot of seeds.

The Ali Baba Watermelon is light green, has no stripes,
has some seeds and looks very skinny.

There are a lot of different kinds of watermelons.

Let me show you some!

The Moon and Stars Watermelon
has a big splotch of yellow for a moon

and has lots of tiny dots all around it for stars
and it's dark green.

Moon and Stars Yellow Flesh has a moon, too,
and has the same details on the outside,
but the green is lighter

and it has an orangey-yellow inside.

Mountain Sweet Yellow Watermelon

has a lightish orangey yellow inside

and has a lot of seeds.

Orangeglo (pronounced like orange glow) has stripes of dark green
and light green on its skin

and it has a light orange color inside.

Royal Golden Watermelon has very bright yellow skin,
and it's little with some slight bumps called ribbing.

The inside has red coloring with seeds and some white rind.

White Wonder has a white inside, and light green outside with dark green stripes and a pale stem!

Wilson's Sweet Watermelon has a red inside,

and green skin with some wavy stripes

and a lot of seeds.

I like watermelons because there are so many cool kinds and they taste very tasty!
