

What is New?

We are having so much fun finishing up learning about how things move. Next week and for the month of May we will begin to learn about Amazing Critters!

Math Concepts

- This month we will focus on numeral recognition and 1 to 1 correspondance.
- For practice count things with your child making sure they touch each item to count the correct amount in a set.

English Concepts

- We will practice story retelling. This is a literacy skill that will help children answer comprehension questions which is a key skill needed to be a successful reader.
- We will continue to write and practice our letter awareness as well as beginning to write numbers.

S.T.E.A.M

- We will explore critters by creating our own critters using various materials.
- We will create graphs to help us analyze data about critters.
- We will explore the sizes of critters by doing various measuring activities.
