

Kanilla and Avly

_____
V_____
Poe , _____
Nonfiction _____

It was a Monday morning in the summer of the year, 1920. I was sleeping peacefully in my small scrunky bed.
"Kanilla wake up," said my mom.

"Why do I have to wake up? It's summer, I want to sleep in" said Kanila angrily.

"Well then you can't come to the tents"

"Mother I want to come, but can Avly come too?" Kanilla asked.

"You can ask her, but if she is not ready in three minutes then she can't come." said Mother.

"Avly, Avly, Avly wake up, wake up so we can go to the tent's." said Kanila.

"Did you say tents" said Avly as she jumped out of bed.

"Girls!" yelled Mother "Hurry up you have 30 seconds starting now."

They both ran out of there as fast as they could.

At the tents

"lets go look around".

"First, let's tell mom".

"Ok I guess".

She started walking towards her but before she could, the floor started shaking.

"Earthquake! Find shelter!" yelled a man from the bread tent.

Kanilla ran back to her sister and they both looked for a place to take cover. They found a cave. They went in and started running towards the very end.

Kanilla and avly kept running barely keeping their balance. They tripped on every stone there was. Once they got to the end of the cave they protected their heads, the earthquake finally stopped. They looked around and Avly saw something.

"Look" said Avly as she pointed to the weird looking thing. But Kanilla already saw it.

"What is that thing?". Kanilla asked as she took a few steps closer.

"I think it's the Ball of Fire" said Avly.

"But the Ball of Fire is supposed to be a myth, and we both know myths are not real." said Kanilla.

"Yes I know but that thing is real and we both can feel it's heat what other thing could that be?" asked Avly.

"But you know how the myth goes who ever touches the Ball of Fire is supposed to get great powers that are given by the gods and goddesses."

"Well lets touch it to see if it's true," said Kanilla.

"One, two, three".

Whoosh!! A powerful wind knocked both girls unconscious.

"Kanilla, Avly where are you guys." yelled Mother as she looked for them.

Mother looked and looked but she didn't find them after an hour of searching one of their mothers friends told her to go home and rest. But to search for them tomorrow. Their mother went home balling that she didn't find them. She started thinking of the bad things that could have happened, and then the good.

"Ow, my head. What just happened." said Kanilla as she started sitting up. "Avly wake up, are you alright?".

"Ya i'm fine, i'm just a little dizzy from the fall" said Avly.

"What, why did we fall again?" asked Kanilla. There was a long silence.

"The Ball of Fire" they both said as they jumped up looking for it.

"It's gone," Avly said. "Wow, I can't believe that just happened."

Kanila paused in shock, realizing something.

"What time is it?" asked Kanilla. Avly took her pocket watch out and said.

"It's 9:54. Why?"

"We have been here for SIX HOUR!" yelled Kanilla as she took Avlys arm and started running out of the cave. Once they got out they were surprised to see that there were no more tents up.

"We need to get back to mom" said Kanilla. "We aren't that far either way". They started walking towards there home. Once they got close, they saw the kitchen light on and a shadow walking past which looked like a woman, her mother probably. They stepped on the first step together, then the second, and finally the third. Together, they knocked on the door. Both of them heard slow footsteps coming towards the door.

"Who is it" said a voice behind the door that sounded like they just finished crying.

"Its Avly"

"And Kanilla"

The door slammed open, their mother in tears hugging them so tight that they couldn't breath

"Don't ever do that again".

"Ok, we'll try".

The next day

"Avly, Kanilla wake up this time we will go to the tents and actually buy something" said Mother. The girls heard that loud and clear so they got changed to go to the tent's.

"Girls I will give each of you two dollors" said mother. "When you are done shopping make sure you meet me at the fruit tent with Miss. Cas.".

"Okie dokey" said Kanilla and Avly as they started walking apart.

Kanilla started walking towards the books and pencils. Avly started looking at the burritos in the corner, and of course she bought one. After that, she went over to look for the freshly made bread. Guess what, she found her favorite bread and bought that too. Now she had no more money to buy things, so she decided to find Kanilla and "help" her pick her things.

Avly looked and looked until she finally found her.

"Hey how about I "help" you pick your things." said Avly

"No." said Kanilla still looking.

"Why?" asked Avly.

"Because your not really going to "help" me your just going to steal my money" said Kanilla.

"Fine I won't help" said Avly as she walked away.

Kanilla kept looking around she found a packet that had a pencil and a journal that cost one dollar so she would have one more dollar to buy a toy. She started walking towards the toy tent to see all the fox plushies sitting there. She was amazed by how cute they looked, so she wanted one that was the cutest and that was, the fire fox. It was puffy, soft and tender. That is what she used her last dollar on.

"Where do we meet up again" Kanilla asked herself. "The fruit tent but where is that."

Kanilla closed her eyes and imagined all the shops and places. Then she heard a voice coming from in front of her. She opened her eyes and laying there was a little gem she picked it up, examined it, and took it. After that she did it again but this time the noise came from her hand, the gem was something much more than a small pebble. She closed her eyes and concentrated only on the gem.

"Tell me the directions" said Kanilla as she placed the gem on the floor in front of her. "Please work". She opened her eyes and flying there was a little fairy.

"You summoned me. What do you need" asked the fairy.

Scared, Kanilla answered. "I-I need directions to t-the fruit tent".

"Follow me, I will lead you to your destination" said the fairy. "Since I am going to walk with you I should introduce myself to you and why im here. My name is Birdie, and I am your new power."

"New power? What do you mean"? Asked Kanilla so very confused.

"I didn't make myself very specific i'm sorry let me try again. I am Birdie and I am your new power. You will keep getting powers because of the Ball of Fire. When you touched it you knew what would happen after that, you and your sister by doing that have agreed to become powerful beings. You better use your powers careful or you'll get the Ball of Fire angry and trust me you don't.

"What does the Ball of Fire do when it gets angry" asked Kanilla.

"Do you really want to know or do you just want to know" asked Birdie.

"I really want to know" respond Kanilla.

"The latest one was Lolo Biolo, powers found in 1888. She loved animals, nature, family and food. But she hated school because the little children would make fun of her for where she lived and for how she looked, but she never cared. She had one friend that she loved and the kids were hurting her. Lolo used her powers against them and hurt the children really badly, by accident. The Ball of Fire knew she didn't mean it but now she was a danger to society, so the choices were she had to hide or she had to die. She decided to pick choice two and she died in 1916 by a scorpion."

A tear ran down Birdie's face. She started sobbing. Kanilla didn't know what to do so she held Birdie in her hands and hugged her. Kanilla could feel that Birdie was calming down and relaxing in her hands slowly Kanilla put Birdie down in her bag.

Kanilla saw Avly and went to her. "I'm here" said Kanilla.

"What took you so long?" asked Avly.

"Stuff" responded Kanilla.

"Your mom will be here in a couple minutes" said Miss.Cas.

"Ok, thank you for the information" said Kanilla.

After a while mother came and took them home. Kanilla went to her room and took out the plushie fox she bought and found a nice place for it. Kanilla took her new book and pencil out and started writing.

"Hey Birdie, you awake"? Asked Kanilla.

"Ya i'm awake"she answered.

"Cool.Umm I have some questions" said Kanilla.

"Go ahead, ask away" said Birdie as she stretched out her arms and legs.

"So like, am I going to get powers randomly or will I know when I am" asked Kanilla.

"Well, some people get their powers later than others but you just have to wait to see when your going to get your next one" said Birdie. "It's all about patience and practice".

"Well, I would like to start practicing right now".

"Ok, spells or potions" asked Birdie.

"Spells?" said Kanilla.

"Ok let's start easy, first you will learn the basics.".

"Which are" asked Kanilla.

"I was about to explain so shhhh" said Birdie. "The one that is very easy to learn is how to turn invisible all you have to do is believe and channel all your strength to your hand. Ohh and don't do it wrong it could be dangerous" Kanilla did as she was told a dark purple light came upon her and she was gone.

"Kanilla where are you" asked Birdie looking around the room.

"What do you mean? I'm right exactly where I was before, stop joking around" said Kanilla.

"Y-You did it" said Birdie. "I'll be right back"

"Wait how do I turn back to normal" said Kanilla.

"Do the exact same thing but think of yourself as normal" said Birdie.

"Ok, will do" said Kanilla.

Birdie fell asleep and started dreaming about the Ball of Fire every time she did that she could actually meet up and talked to it.

"Fire, Kanilla isn't like the rest she uses dark magic and she has a twin so she will have good magic you never told me I would be with the evil one" said Birdie.

"Birdie, Kanilla isn't bad and you've seen it. I put you with Kanilla for a reason.Dave is with Avly, he isn't as advanced as you, you can actually do something that other helpers can't do" said the Ball of Fire. "Kanilla is going to have more trouble controlling her powers than any other human. She might be the first to be "evil" but she still is a good, kind person who needs a helper. So I am counting on you to take care of Kanilla for me and umm can you maybe keep an eye on Dave and Avly. I really don't trust them at all".

"Well thank you" said Birdie.

"No problem, and you should probably go back to your new home. Kanilla needs you. Oh but before you go, I need you to give this to Kanilla it's a book of spells. Tell her to take care of it and to not show anyone including Avly, got it, tell her this is her new power" asked the Ball of Fire.

"Ok, thank you for your help," said Birdie as she started waking up.

It was almost supper time for Kanilla. But before Kanilla left her room to go eat Birdie had to talk to her.

"Kanilla you know how you now have powers you can tell your sister about them only her. Now the Ball of Fire wants me to give this to you as your new power" Birdie said as she passes the book to Kanilla. "This you can't show anyone at all including Avly, hide this in a safe spot".

Kanilla took the book and hid it in her chest that was located in her closet.

"Now can I go eat" asked Kanilla heading towards her door.

"Yes you can" said Birdie as she motioned Kanilla to leave. Gladly Kanilla opened the door and started skipping towards the diner table. After Kanilla ate she went to her sisters room to tell her about her magic so she brought Birdie.

Kanilla knocked on the door and came in. "Hey can I come in and show you something".

"Sure, I also have something to show you" said Avly.

"Lets both say it at the same time" said Kanilla.

"Ok, 3".

"2".

"1!".

"I have a magic helper" they both said at the same time.

"Mine is named Birdie" said Kanilla holding Birdie in her hands.

"Mine is named Dave" said Avly holding him out in front of her.

"Have you learned anything from him" asked Kanilla.

"Ya I learned how to levitate" said Avly. "Would you like me to show you".

"Yes, then I will show you mine" said Kanilla.

Avly whispered a word under her breath and she started slowly lifting off the floor. Kanilla saw a light yellow shine as Avly flouted up. After a little while Avly started losing control and she fell to the floor.

"Are you ok" said Kanilla as she lifted Avly off the ground.

"Ya I just have to practice landing" said Avly wiping her knees. "Now show me your spell".

Kanilla focused on her hands then the rest of her body soon she was gone like an ant in the grass. Although you couldn't see her you could still hear her movement and her breathing. Avly saw a dark purple shadow come upon her when she became invisible.

"What did you think about my spell" asked Kanilla.

"It was absolutly..... Amazing" cheered Avly.

"I will show you how to become invisible if you show me how to fly. Deal" Kanilla put her hand for Avly to shake.

"Deal" Avly shook Kanilla's hand.

They spent the rest of the day showing each other their spell, finally Kanilla learned Avly's spell and Avly learned Kanilla's spell. Kanilla was sleepy after it all so she went to bed she would learn more in the next day.

The next morning she woke up and was ready to learn something new so she woke up Birdie.

"Hey what are we learning today" asked Kanilla with excitement.

"The same thing" said Birdie eating a kit kat.

"Oh, then when will I learn something new" asked Kanilla with a smile.

"Next week" said Birdie crumbling the wrapper in her hands.

"Next week. Why" asked Kanilla with a frown.

"Well I still have to show you how to make other things invisible, what page it is on in your spell book, how to completely control it, and much more," said Birdie.

"That's cool so let's get started" said Kanilla.

That whole day they worked on making a teddy bear invisible. Kanilla couldn't do it at first because it was really difficult then she finally made it sort of fade. By supper time she made the head and feet disappear but she still needed the arms and body. She ate then came back to finish. By bed time she had done it.

"Tomorrow you will make it visible again," said Birdie. "But right now you need to rest so you are all powered up".

"Ok, good night" said Kanilla tucking herself in.

The next morning she started early and she finished bringing it back to normal in a couple of minutes. She couldn't wait to start the new invisible project. She started waking up Birdie to start the new thing she asked Birdie what she would be doing today and Birdie said that she would learn the page it was on. By Sunday she knew everything about the power of invisibility. So on Monday she started a new power and learned all about it, she practiced and practiced until she mastered it this kept on going for a long time, maybe about three years. Every time it was her birthday she got to pick one chapter to learn about.

Avly also had been doing magic as long as Kanilla. Dave would pick the chapter due to her progress and to tell you the truth Avly wasn't the best at this whole magic thing. Avly would ask Kanilla for help when she didn't understand something. Sometimes Dave wouldn't teach Avly, but every time this happened Avly would go study with Kanilla.

"Pick one chapter to learn about" said Birdie.

Kanilla looked at the book of spells and choose the one that was called the secret chapter. "How about this one".

"A-are you sure you want that one" said Birdie nervously.

"Ya it looks fun" said Kanilla.

"Ok but this is a very dangerous chapter, so what you will learn things that could be hard to control and may or may not hurt you," said Birdie telling the honest truth. "The person who wrote this chapter was evil in a good way, her powers were made for evil purposes but she used them for good. She was one of the most powerful magic users".

"Wow and it has such an interesting story makes me want to learn a lot more about it" said Kanilla with excitement. "Can I go eat cake now, maybe we can start tomorrow".

"Avly, happy birthday my sis" said Kanilla as she entered her room.

"Happy birthday to you too" said Avly.

"We should go enjoy ourselves it is our birthday after all, I have a lot of things that we could do today just you wait and see" said Kanilla grabbing Avly's hand to leave the room.

The rest of the day they had fun doing everything they could. They went to sleep past their bedtime and they watched a scary movie that caused them to have nightmares.

"Well this day is over sadly" said Kanilla.

"Ya I wish this day wasn't over, but hopefully we will still have as much fun as we did today," said Avly.

"Hopefully" said Kanilla. "Maybe we should go to sleep and do this all over again tomorrow".

They went to sleep since they were very tired, all they did that day was play, play, play, eat, and watch a movie. Did they really plan to do the same thing again the next day? We will see what the future holds.

The next day

"Help," the first villager yelled as he ran away.

"There's a monster" the second cried said.

Kanilla and Avly both opened their eyes to see that there were flames coming out their window. Kanilla jumped out of bed and ran straight to her room she grabbed a bag and started putting things in it she put her book of spells in the bag, Birdie, the money she had been saving up, some clothing, all her plushies, and the pictures and drawings of her family. In her hand she carried a water, a coat, a blanket, and a med kit.

"Gather some things," said Kanilla.

"Like what" asked Avly.

"Things that are necessary" said Kanilla.

Kanilla ran towards her mother's room. But she wasn't there, Kanilla saw a note by her bed that was written in sloppy handwriting. That said: if you want her back follow my footsteps you'll have to defeat me to get her back.

Avly grabbed her stuff and ran out of the house. Once she stepped out she saw something that terrified her. The park was in flames, the post lights were gone, the trees were on top of some homes, so far the only house that was untouched was their house. Kanilla walked out and saw the same thing. But she noticed that there was something strange. It looked like a footprint, but it wasn't made by a human. It lead towards the woods.

"We need to go to the woods immediately" said Kanilla, she started running towards it.

Avly followed her. "Why are we going there".

"To destroy whatever took mother" Kanilla said as she jerked back her tears.

Once they got to the woods they looked around to find a lizard but in the form of a human.

"Well, well, well, look who showed up" said the lizard. "My name is Kilo, and i'm the one who caused all that destruction in your town. Oh and I'm the one who took your mother".

"What do you want from us" asked Avly.

"Well it's simple, I want you dead," said Kilo. "Well, I only want Kanilla, she is the real danger to my throne".

Kanilla started laughing. "Your so stupid, only a person with evil powers can be leader of your clan and im not evil".

"Ha, but thats where youre wrong, you are evil and strong," said Kilo.

"Well then I'll have no trouble defeating you" Kanilla started running towards him and a dark force knocked him over.

The war began, Kilo stood back up and made his blue shot. That shot made Kanilla tumble down. Meanwhile Avly went to find their mother, . Mother was tied to a tree so Avly had to untie her as soon as she did they started running, Mother didn't ask why for she already knew. Kanilla stood up her eyes were closed, she was ready for battle, she attacked and fought until she was sure he was dead. But he came back again and again, he wouldn't let himself be defeated. It was his turn and he performed a very strong spell. He shot it at Kanilla and she blacked out. It was a minute or two before she came back but she still stood up and she did her most simple spell the invisibility. She turned invisible for a reason, she had to go to Birdie.

"I need you to teach me the most powerful spell" said Kanilla.

"Ok" said Birdie. "This spell you will need to say these exact words"

Bidie told it to her and then she left.

"You giving up" said Kilo..

"No I still have one more trick up my sleeve" said Kanilla.

"From the deepest depths of the sea, I shall be accompanied by thiy, to lend me a dark hand, to take over land, for whoever comes in my path, will be forgotten even in the past, I'll make a hole into the sky to let me fly. I am strong and you are wrong for you have no more time." said Kanilla her eyes went dark the sky turned dark, a streak of lightning hit Kilo and he disappeared.

"I did it" said Kanilla. She picked up her stuff and started running.

She got to the town most of the fire was no longer on, their house was burned down, good thing that they got there things. She saw her mom and her sister, she ran towards them with tears in eyes she hugged both of them tightly.

"I thought I would never see you again" said Kanilla.

They all huddled together for a long period of time.

"Well our old home isn't going to be any good to live in so we can go live with aunt loki, let's start our way towards them," said Mother.

They started walking and this is where their journey ends. Right?