Bright Yellow

The color of the sun in the morning is beautiful. The sky is not really yellow and doesn't really match with most colors because it's very bright so it is mostly for emojis because they're supposed to not look like everything else and are supposed to be brighter than other things, it is also used for painting like the three main colors like blue, yellow, red.

Fascinating Red

The color red is one of the most fascinating color of them all you need it because it is used for most of it like the sun set or fire trucks or magma. Especially because it would look something weird without the color red everything would look different than it is today. The color is also the color of magma, one of the worst natural disasters.

Important Blue

The color blue is the most important color of them all the color blue is the color of the sky and the color of cotton candy. It is the color of the ocean and now you can tell that this is the most important color of them all and it is used mostly for houses.

Well Known Green

The color green is one of the most well known colors it is used for the grass the itchy mean grass it has bugs in it and other weird but cool insects. It is the color that is part of the three main colors like blue and yellow to make up all the colors of the rainbow it is the color of praying mantis it also helps you connect to nature. It is beautiful to look at it and wow it is the most beautiful thing in the world to look at it with water and to look at it when all those cool and find interesting animals.

Universal Black

Black is mostly used for everything like keys TV's and it is used for computers but you need black because it is used for most screens and it is used for shirts and other clothes. You also use it for antlers on deers and it is used for keychains, wallets phones and it is used for speakers. It is used for the color of cars such as trucks and it is used for bookshelves we use black to sleep because it is so dark. As you can see, all the colors are special for their reasons of life!
