

Scotland

John

Grade 1
Fiction       
Poetry       
Nonfiction X

Scotland is a beautiful country with a lot of history.

First, let's talk about the language. They use to speak English, Scottish English or a Celtic language. Today, they mainly speak English.

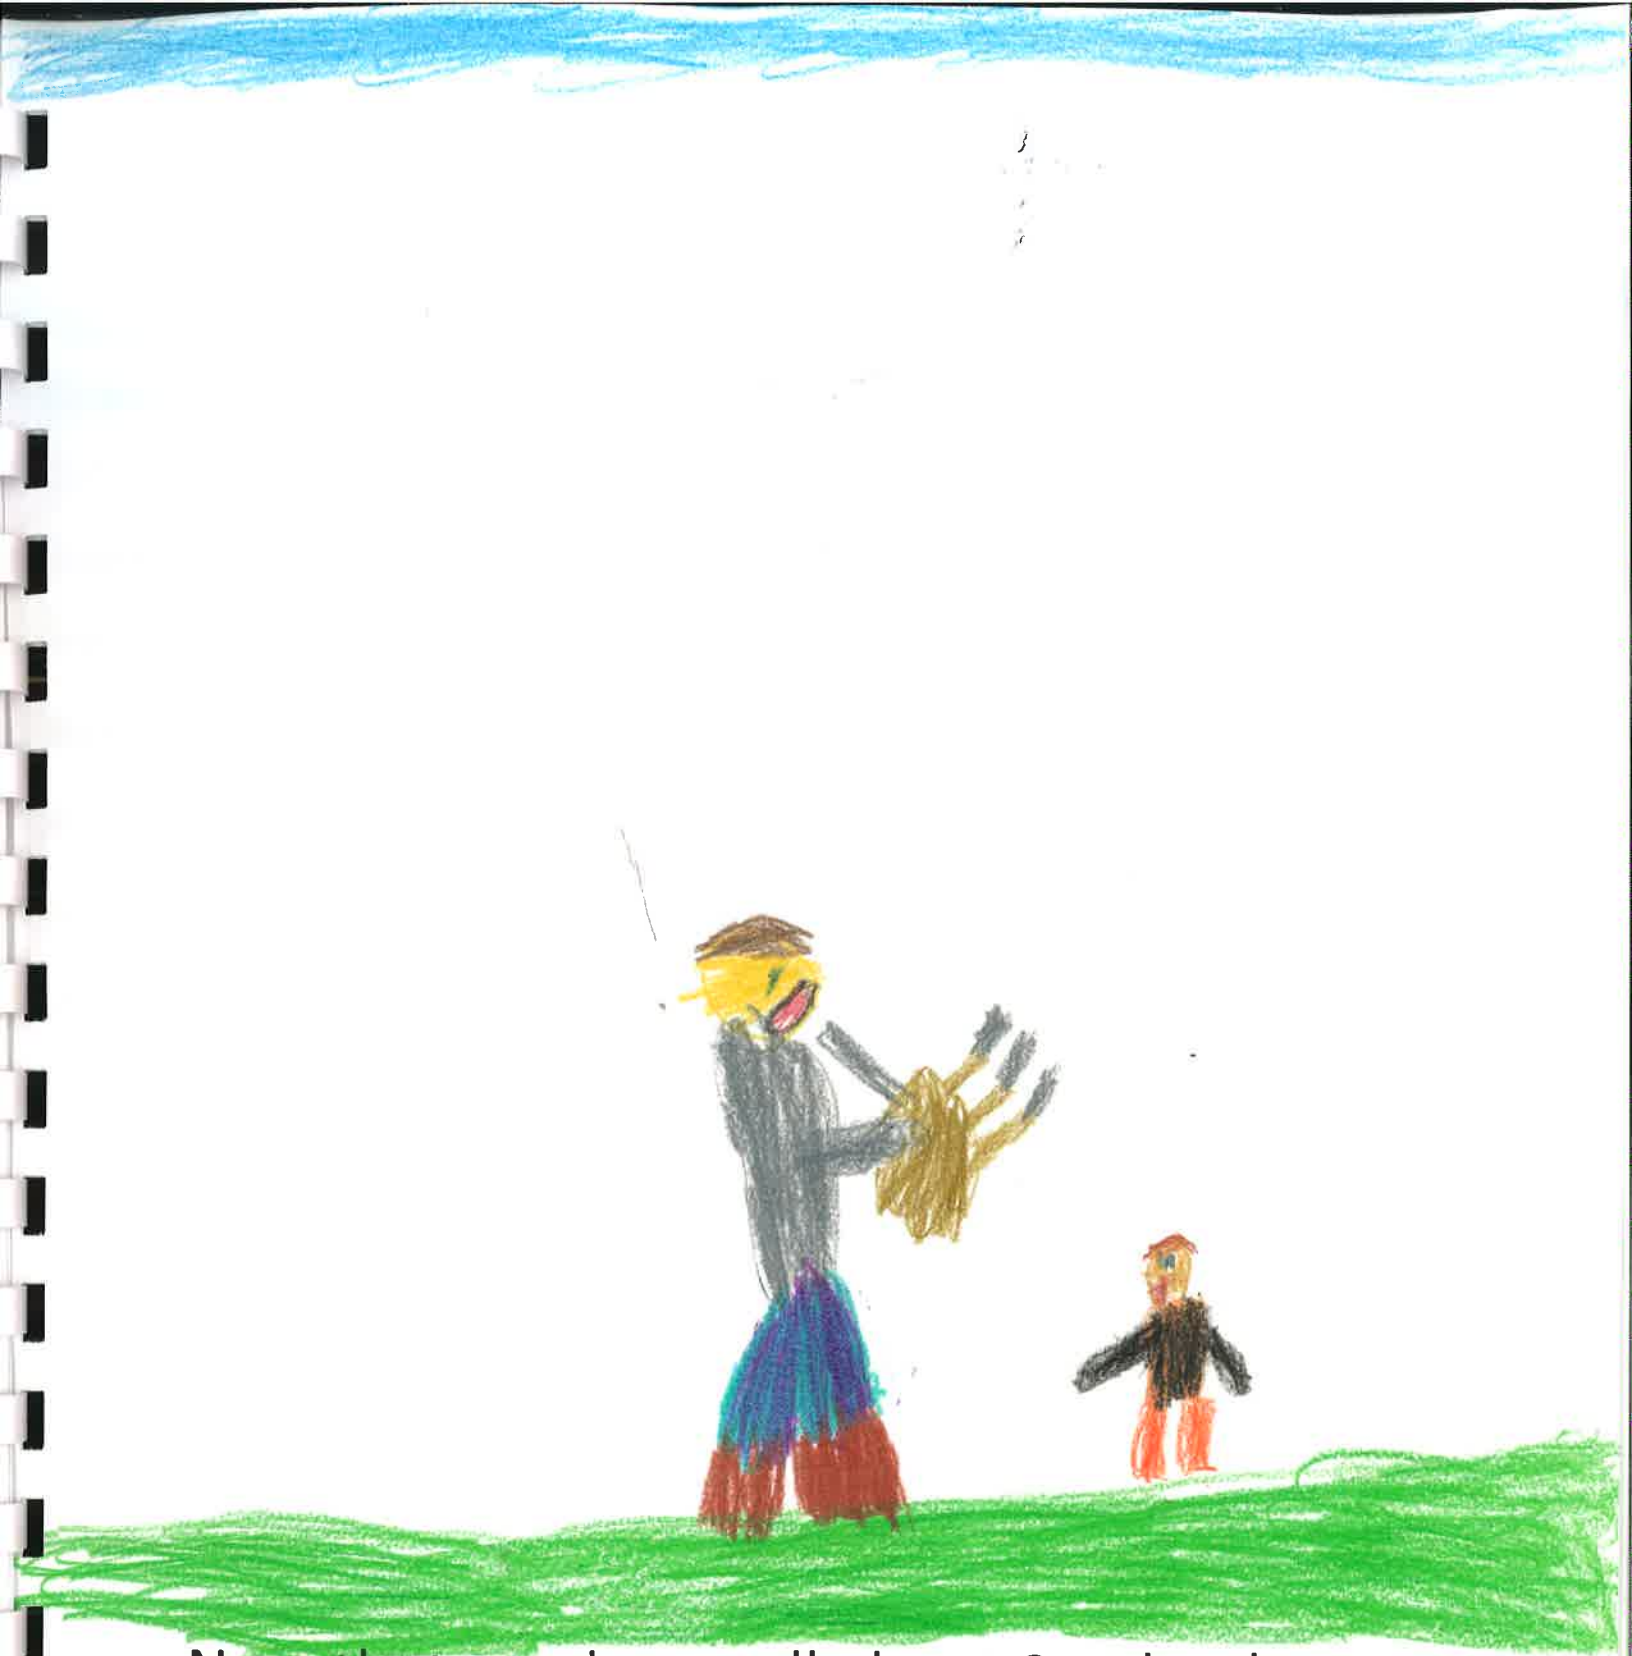

There are many unique foods in Scotland that you can eat. One food is named Haggis. Haggis is a savoury pudding and sheep guts. Scotland is also known for black pudding which is made with pork blood and oatmeal.

There are many enchanting stones in Scotland. The most famous stones are the Callanish stones. They are in a cruciform pattern with a stone in the middle.

Now that you know all about Scotland, would it be a place that you would like to visit?