Dr. Maureen Thiec

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Delone Catholic High School,

In August of 2009, my message included the following from Matthew 17:20, "If you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move. Nothing will be impossible for you."

This year we have moved mountains! Nothing was impossible! We began a capital campaign for the first time in the history of Delone Catholic with a committee of very dedicated Division Chairpersons. These chairpersons, numbering 12 just like the Apostles of Jesus, zealously tackled their assigned tasks and reaped rewards immediately. In the short space of seven months we had met our original goal of $1.75 million. The Board has since approved the extension of the goal. Today we have received gifts and pledges totaling $1.99 million!

Conewago Enterprises, Inc., is under contract with the Diocese of Harrisburg to spearhead the renovation of the 1963 Math and Science Wing with the assistance of Jim Baumgardner, Architect. Materials are being ordered, color schemes chosen, fixtures designed – the dream of a decade is becoming a reality. The level of excitement and anticipation is reaching an all-time high!

Our goal is to move EVERYTHING out of the science and math classrooms. We will have a storage container on campus. We will recycle what materials we can, and we will sell metal parts that can be salvaged. We have targeted May 18-20 for our grand move. We need help! If any recent graduates have returned from college, please volunteer. If any of our parents have a day off or a schedule that will allow an hour or two, please volunteer. If any of our current seniors completed an exam by virtue of AP courses and are free to help, please volunteer. You can volunteer by contacting the school at 717-637-5969.

The next step is to have the non-friable asbestos tiles removed from all of the classrooms. The company believes that this project can be completed in 10-14 days. As one floor becomes available for renovation, the contractors will begin! The project will be finished before the start of school. I am positive that we will need abundant help in mid-August as we move everything back into the classrooms prior to the arrival of our students.

Just imagine! New labs! Air conditioning! Heat that works! Bathrooms that sparkle! Additional technology or access to it with the wires above the ceiling rather than hanging from it!

Delone Catholic continues to be indebted to all those who have donated to this project. As St. Francis of Assisi said, "It is in giving that we receive." So many have given so much, and to them we are indeed grateful. Psalm 30:12 reads, "O Lord my God, I will give thanks to thee forever." Delone Catholic will give thanks to God forever for touching the generous hearts of so many people!

God bless you!

Maureen C. Thiec, Ed.D.

DELONE CATHOLIC MARKS 70TH ANNIVERSARY WITH MASS, REDEDICATION

“So it is that Delone High School is an instrument of Providence for hundreds of earnest young people who look forward to entering business industry or other fields of employment. What is of greatest importance, of course is that these young people will receive their training for the future in the inspiring atmosphere of religion. Here their faith, deepened and strengthened, will permeate as a leaven all other studies, and new horizons will open up before their youthful minds in the higher learning they will receive.”

– Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, Archbishop of Laodicea and Apostolic Delegate to the United States, Sept. 2, 1940

With these words on behalf of Venerable Pope Pius XII, Archbishop Cicognani opened Delone Catholic High School to its first students. Those students, the Classes of 1941-44, and the faculty and administrators who educated them began a proud tradition, which many came together to celebrate on Labor Day weekend 2010.

Delone Catholic began its 71st academic year in a unique position. The celebration of the milestone anniversary took place as the school took a major step in the physical renewal of its building. A capital campaign that puts the school on course to celebrate many more anniversaries in its current home was publicly announced just four months earlier. This time of growth also provided a special opportunity to thank God for his blessings over 70 years and remember all of those who made Delone Catholic's present and future possible through the hard work of the past.

“Building on the shoulders of the giants who have come before me has paved the way for a future filled with God's graces and special blessings on Delone Catholic High School,” Dr. Maureen C. Thiec, Delone Catholic's seventh principal, said.

In the most fitting way for a Catholic school to celebrate such an occasion, the Delone Catholic family planned a Mass for Thursday, Sept. 2 in the Sheppard Gym. The current administrators, faculty, staff and students of the school were joined by alumni from all generations in welcoming Most Rev. Joseph P. McFadden as the principal celebrant. Bishop McFadden was making his first visit to a high school in the Diocese of Harrisburg since being installed as its 10th bishop in mid-August. Sixteen of his brother priests and three deacons representing the Adams Deanery and Maryland parishes served by Delone Catholic, as well as former chaplains and alumni priests concelebrated the Mass.

“We were delighted that Bishop McFadden was able to visit and celebrate Mass with all of us on this auspicious occasion,” Dr. Thiec said. “Our anniversary followed so closely to Bishop's installation that his willingness to attend was much appreciated.”

Bishop McFadden took the opportunity to ask God's continued blessing on Delone Catholic and all who teach and learn here as they began the new school year. In his homily, Bishop McFadden channeled the vision that his predecessor, Most Rev. George L. Leech, had for Delone Catholic to be an institution that prepares its students to use their gifts and talents to bring joy and happiness to their communities. At the groundbreaking in 1939, Bishop Leech had declared, “For our youth, we establish Delone Catholic High School; may it teach them how to live.”

Bishop McFadden echoed these thoughts, saying, “We ask the Holy Spirit to help guide you this year to, first of all, be good students, to be open to learning about life. That's what this place is about. It's about learning our purpose. It's about opening your minds and hearts to all sorts of different things in the world that God has created. That's what we do in education, mold you and help you so you can be truly wise.”

Knowing that Delone Catholic is taking all it learned in the past to grow and improve in the future, Bishop McFadden encouraged the students to do the same in their own lives.

“Right now, you are in school at Delone Catholic,” Bishop McFadden said. “You are here because your parents sent you here to help you learn and grow so that you can have a full life. But as you are doing that, you have to discern ‘What am I going to do with my life?’”

Delone Catholic has helped prepare thousands of students over the last 70 years to answer that question for themselves. Many families have seen their second, third and now fourth generations make the journey from childhood to adulthood within the walls of our school. Their preparation has allowed them to be parents and grandparents, priests and sisters, carpenters and engineers, valued members of the armed forces, scientists, poets, lawyers, doctors, office managers, administrative assistants, laborers and anything else that they have chosen to do.

Most importantly, no matter how Delone Catholic alumni have chosen to make a living, they have gained the necessary skills to do so in an environment that taught them to “Be Doers of the Word.” Bishop McFadden's words reiterated that command from the letter of St. James, chosen so many years ago to be the school motto.

“Jesus tells us that if we want to be people that find happiness and joy, it's not so much what people can do for us. It's what we can do for others.”

The anniversary celebration did not end when the Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree honor guard led all of the Mass participants out of the Sheppard Gym. The following night, after the Squires football team traveled up the road to open the season with a 14-0 blanking of local rival New Oxford, the team and the students returned to J.T. Flaherty Field for Football Friday. Each week, WGAL-TV 8 broadcasts its highlight show from the site of several of the weekend's key games. Typically, they only broadcast from the home team's stadium, but they broke from tradition to help mark the 70th anniversary.

The following morning, the festivities concluded with a rededication ceremony in the Memorial Garden outside the Old Gym. Dr. Thiec was joined by three of her six predecessors and more than 100 students, faculty and alumni to call to mind the charge given to a Catholic school and to ask God's help and guidance in carrying it out.

Just around the corner of the building from the spot where, Archbishop Cicognani and Bishop Leech had been joined by 155 priests from around the Diocese in 1940, Rev. Msgr. Robert E. Lawrence, Delone Catholic's third principal, recalled the man whose name the school bears. Were it not for the generosity of Mr. Charles J. Delone, none of what has been accomplished since 1940 would have been possible. Msgr. Lawrence used Bishop Leech's words from the dedication to point out that Mr. Delone could have chosen to use his wealth for anything, but he used it to make a difference in the lives of his neighbors and many generations of their descendants.

"Mr. Charles J. Delone, through whose munificence this building has been erected, loved his church, his country and his fellow man," Bishop Leech said. "The means he chose to show that love is the wisest means as years ahead will prove when the graduates of Delone Catholic High School take their places in church, and nation and local communities. He did this deed for God and his fellow man."

Because of the great gift he has given to all of us, the name of the Delone family has lived on for more than 70 years without the benefit of a direct descendent. This was never his intent however, as Bishop Leech cited a "sincere and unfeigned desire on the part of Mr. Delone that his benefaction might remain anonymous." The Bishop said that Mr. Delone's wish was truly in keeping with the words of Jesus himself who said, "But when thou dost alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth, that thy alms may be in secret and thy father who seeth in secret will repay thee." Bishop Leech continued, outlining the reason that he asked Mr. Delone to reconsider, and his words have proven to be prophetic.

"There are times, however, when the most high-minded personal wishes may properly and profitably yield in order that they may serve the cause of many. And because the donation of this high school building is a fine example to the laity of the Diocese of Harrisburg and a source of genuine edification, showing as it does what our people ought to do with their worldly possessions which they have received from God as the stewards of God, I have asked the donor of this building to allow the name of his family and his forbears to be associated with this building in order that he and they may be perpetually remembered in the prayers of those who throughout the future years will come to profit by his priceless benefaction, and so I am very happy to announce to you now that this new institution will be known as the 'Delone Catholic High School.'"

The willingness to give is one of the hallmarks of Delone Catholic faculty, staff, administrators, coaches and alumni. So many have given of their time and talents over the last seven decades to place students in the best possible position to succeed in their professional, social and faith life...

Mr. Delone's example has truly been emulated over the last seven decades. Without the gifts of time, talent and treasure from students, parents, administration, faculty, staff, alumni and friends, Delone Catholic High School would have ceased to exist long ago. Mr. Delone's gift of the land and building allowed Delone Catholic to open, but the gifts of countless others – some known, some anonymous – have made 70 years possible. The continued support of many benefactors will allow this community to look back in another 70 years and remember them in the way we remember Charles J. Delone.

In the spirit of Bishop Leech we continue to remember God's abundant blessings through these benefactors, not simply to recall them, but to recall what they have provided for those whose lives are shaped by Delone Catholic. This school will always exist to prepare young people "in the inspired atmosphere of religion" to meet the challenges of tomorrow and to in turn make a difference for those who come after them.

As Archbishop Cicognani and Bishop Leech charted the course to be taken over the first 70 years, Msgr. Lawrence reminds all of us in the present that our role is to see Delone Catholic into the future.

"Then 70 years later we are here, different individuals, but the same purpose – to provide a Catholic high school education to the young people of this area. Delone Catholic High School continues to teach the three R's of reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic, but adds two more – religion and respect.

"We are here to remember all those who have been a part of Delone Catholic High School over the past 70 years, whether they have been students, teachers, administrators, support personnel or benefactors. Each and every one has had a part in making Delone what it is today, and of continuing the legacy that has been given to us.

"As most are aware, there are planned renovations to the building. Perhaps 30 years from now, as Delone Catholic High School celebrates its 100th anniversary, someone will recognize and show appreciation to those who are assisting in the renovations that are now being made.

"And may the blessings today continue God's special graces on this building, but most importantly, may they be on those who are and will be a part of Delone Catholic High School. It is now Dr. Maureen Thiec and the present faculty and staff who are called to continue the work that began 70 years ago. May the good Lord bless those whom He has chosen to lead Delone Catholic High School at this time.

"Squires, Estote Factores Verbi, Be Doers of the Word, so that this school may continue to be a great instrument of learning and formation for young people of this day, and the young people of future generations."

Charles J. Delone, Esq. 1864-1940

The following is adapted from The Evening Sun article announcing Mr. Delone's death. It was originally published on Jan. 18, 1940, and is reprinted with the paper's permission. Mr. Delone passed away the previous evening. As we celebrate 70 years as a pillar of the Adams Deanery Catholic community, it is appropriate that we take time to remember the man without whom none of it would have been possible.

Mr. Delone was an able lawyer and a shrewd business man. In club circles his genial personality, friendliness and charm of manner won for him deserved popularity. He was a suave and brilliant conversationalist. As a host, he was delightful. He was fond of travel, and made a trip to Europe in 1900, enjoyed camp life and was an enthusiastic motorist.

Mr. Delone was a son of the late Joseph and Maria J. Hilt Delone, and was born on Feb. 9, 1864. He attended Prof. Baugher's private school in Hanover, later becoming a student at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., for four years. Later he attended Harvard Law School for three years and after graduating in law practiced in New York City for a short time before returning to Hanover. He since followed his profession here as well as engaging in a number of business enterprises.

He twice served the municipality as borough solicitor, first being named to that office in 1893 when he served one year. Mr. Delone again became borough solicitor in 1903 and remained in that office during 1904 and 1905, records in the borough office show.

Attorney Delone was the donor of the new $200,000 Catholic High School that is now under construction at Midway and South Streets, McSherrystown, which will be completed for the 1940-41 term, and also the site upon which it stands.

The cornerstone for the handsome brick structure which will serve 10 parishes, was laid and blessed at appropriate services Sunday, Nov. 5, by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Roman Catholic church, who during his address announced that the new structure will be known as Delone Catholic High School, in honor of the donor.

Attorney Delone was always deeply interested in the Catholic church. He served as a trustee of the Paradise Protectory, near Abbottstown, home for orphan boys of the Catholic faith. He was a member of Hanover council, No. 871, Knights of Columbus, and St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Beneficial Society.

When the water shortage emergency developed here in 1930, Mr. Delone took a keen interest in the task of the Citizens Emergency Water committee, formed during the shortage, and later was of much assistance to that committee in the negotiations which led to the purchase of the Hanover & McSherrystown Water Company. All of the meetings of the Emergency Water committee were held in his office and, while not officially a member of the group, he worked with the committee thoroughly and well, giving unstintingly of his legal knowledge and advice. He went to New York with H.D. Sheppard when the deal for the purchase of the water company was finally consummated. His only compensation for his untiring and valuable efforts in aiding the community in solving its water problem was the satisfaction he received in performing a public service and this he often referred to as the greatest privilege of his life.

Mr. Delone was connected with various businesses in Hanover. He was president of the Hanover Engineering Company. He, too, was the owner and operator of the Park Theater, West Chestnut and Franklin streets, Hanover's only home-owned theater and, in addition, he was a director of the Revonah Spinning Mill. He also owned a number of farms in the vicinity of Hanover.

When steps were taken to form a lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Hanover, Mr. Delone took a leading part in the movement and became one of the charter members of Hanover lodge, No. 763. When the lodge was instituted he became the first exalted ruler and served in that capacity in 1902 and 1903. Mr. Delone continued active in the affairs of Elksdom here up to the time of his death. Members of the lodge always greatly enjoyed hearing of the early days of the organization here from the lips of their first exalted ruler, and last May 25 the lodge observed C.J. Delone night on which occasion he was presented with a life membership in the order.

Mr. Delone, too, was long an active member of the Arcadian Club, Hanover's oldest societal organization.

In the days of the Hanover fair, Mr. Delone was a member and a director of the Hanover Agricultural Society, which annually conducted the exhibition.

W.B. Gemmill, president of the York County Bar Association, announced that a meeting would be held on Friday, Jan. 19, 1940, in the court house at which time a tribute was paid to the memory of Attorney Delone.

Mr. Delone was survived by his wife, who before marriage was Helen S. Winebrenner, who died Nov. 27, 1962; a sister Miss Mary A. Delone and a niece Miss Elizabeth Delone, both of Hanover.

A funeral Mass for Mr. Delone was celebrated at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20, 1940, at St. Joseph Church on Baltimore Street. He was laid to rest at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Most Rev. George L. Leech and Charles J. Delone, Esq., stand at the site of what will become Delone Catholic High School on July 17, 1939.

DCHS Alum Carves Out Niche on National TV

Every Saturday during the fall and winter, millions of people across the country tune in to ESPN to find out what is happening throughout the college football world. The producers and set designers go out of their way, it seems, to join in the festivities whenever their broadcasts coincide with a holiday season. For Kerry Weaver '92, this has been the key to getting his work showcased on national television.

In 2007, Weaver, who lives near State College, Pa., taught himself how to carve images into pumpkins. That football season, ESPN's popular preview show College GameDay originated from the Penn State campus on the weekend of their Oct. 27 showdown with top-ranked Ohio State. Weaver had carved the images of Penn State coach Joe Paterno, the Nittany Lion Shrine, the ESPN logo and the College GameDay hosts into pumpkins and took them to the outdoor set to show to the producers. The producers asked if they could use the pumpkins on the set. Though Weaver was not given name recognition, he had his opening.

While he has carved the images into real pumpkins, most of his work is done on foam craft pumpkins.

"I got tired of them withering in three days after I spent six hours on them," Weaver said.

Two years later, ESPN broadcast live from Penn State again, this time in late September. Weaver was in contact with the producers again, who were unsure of what their plans were for the Halloween game. Just a few days before USC's game at Oregon on Oct. 31, 2009, Weaver got a call requesting pumpkins for the GameDay set. He went to work carving the logos of the two schools into real pumpkins, and after three hours, he sent them overnight to the ESPN staff at the game site in Eugene, Ore.

"They showed them on GameDay, and that night, they showed them like three times during the game on ABC," Weaver said. "I didn't get recognition for it, but millions of people saw my work, which I thought was cool."

Weaver, who was a telecommunications major at Penn State, works part time with the university's telecommunications department. One of his major duties is operating a television camera during the broadcast of home basketball games. He also operates a pressure washing service. He is quick to point out that his hobby is one that others can pick up.

"I got my start with pattern books and tool sets from Wal-Mart," Weaver said. "I taught myself by going to a website that showed you how to make patterns. You take a photograph, put it into Photoshop and make a pattern. The website is not online anymore, which is a shame. I used to show it to people all the time because I don't want to take credit for it. I showed them, not like 'Hey, look what I can do,' but more 'Look what you can do.' I am not an artist. I am a tracer."

Kerry Weaver has not only carved recognizable images in real and artificial pumpkins for ESPN, but others like this Nativity scene.

Weaver carved this version of van Gogh's famous "Starry Night" painting.

Delone Catholic Omni Club Recognizes 76 Students

Seventy-six Delone Catholic High School students were honored by the Omni Club with a breakfast in the school cafeteria on Friday, Feb. 4. The event was part of the Catholic Schools Week festivities. The goal of the Omni Club, a parent/community-sponsored organization at Delone Catholic, is to formally recognize growth in the all-around individual. Students who strive to do their best and assume their roles as responsible citizens of the modern world are commended for their efforts. Students are challenged to live the school motto by being "Doers of the Word" and integrating the spiritual, intellectual, aesthetic, personal, social and physical aspects of life.

Delone Catholic honors its graduates who have made great contributions in the public square. Being “Doers of the Word” comes in many forms and is expressed in many ways. Some actually bring the Word to the people, and others live it out by using the gifts they have been given to make a mark on their chosen path. This edition of Delone Today features an alumna who shares her talents in the classroom and an alumnus who has been chosen to bring the Word to the people of the Diocese of Harrisburg. As always, we appreciate suggestions about other alumni who are “Doers of the Word.”

CANDY SNEERINGER GIVES DELONE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL BACK-TO-BACK GOLDEN APPLE WINNERS

by Jennifer Noel '05

The Golden Apple Award is a prestigious honor for teachers around the Diocese of Harrisburg, and for the second year in a row, a member of the Delone Catholic High School faculty has been bestowed with the honor. Candy Sneeringer '88, followed in the footsteps of Brian Yealy '79, and was named a recipient of the 2010 Golden Apple Award, one of only seven teachers in the Diocese to earn the accolade.

“Having a faculty member from Delone Catholic receive the Golden Apple Award in two successive years speaks to the loyalty and dedication of the members of this faculty,” Delone Catholic principal Dr. Maureen Thiec said. “For both awardees, they have exemplified going beyond themselves for the good of the student, giving time and talent to guarantee the success of those whom they teach.”

Mrs. Sneeringer is currently in her 10th year in the math department, but her affiliation with the school goes far beyond her tenure as a faculty member. Her grandmother was in the first graduating class from Delone Catholic and her parents, husband, Mike Sneeringer '88, and several other family members are alumni of the school.

It was always in Mrs. Sneeringer's plan to teach at Delone Catholic. After graduating high school, she earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Shippensburg University in Shippensburg, Pa., in 1992. At the time, no positions were available at Delone Catholic, and after applying to other school districts in the area, Mrs. Sneeringer decided to substitute teach for a year. After substitute teaching, she held a position with a local bank in training and human resources. Following the purchase of the bank by a holding company, she worked in human resources at a local factory. She then learned that a position had become available at Delone Catholic, for which she applied and was hired.

"After having Miss (Anne) Kerr in high school, I realized I wanted to teach high school math," Mrs. Sneeringer said. "It is an honor to teach with so many of the teachers who have taught me and for whom I have the utmost respect."

Mrs. Sneeringer teaches a range of classes in the Mathematics Department, including Pre-Calculus, Honors Statistics, Advanced Placement Statistics, Honors Calculus and AP Calculus.

"I thoroughly enjoy teaching at Delone Catholic," said Mrs. Sneeringer. "The material is challenging, and it is a pleasure to watch the students rise to the challenge."

Her commitment to Delone Catholic does not end in the classroom, however. Mrs. Sneeringer's involvement in activities and committees inside and outside the school community is extensive. She is currently a faculty representative to the School Board and to the Faculty Communications Committee. Mrs. Sneeringer is also a member of the Social Committee, the Technology Committee and the Validating the Vision/Accreditation for Growth Planning Committee, as well as the Quiz Bowl Moderator and a mentor for one of the new faculty members. She also serves as secretary for the parish council at Sacred Heart Basilica in Hanover, where she is a parishioner. Her sons attend school at Sacred Heart, where she also served on the Middle States Report Planning Committee. In 2009, Mrs. Sneeringer was also awarded the Hanover Chamber of Commerce Teacher of the Year Award.

The Golden Apple Award was originally presented by the Donahue Family Foundation in 1992 in the Diocese of Pittsburgh, and the Golden Apple continues to stand as a symbol for excellence in Catholic education. Each year the award winners are invited to a banquet at the Cardinal Keeler Center in Harrisburg, Pa.

When the awards banquet was held in May 2010, the Diocese of Harrisburg was still without a bishop. In his role as Diocesan Administrator, Very Rev. Chester P. Snyder, hosted the evening's events. A member of the Donahue family was a guest speaker, and each principal presented a speech about the award recipient from his or her school. Mrs. Sneeringer was happy to be surrounded by family and friends.

"It was a very enjoyable and memorable evening," Mrs. Sneeringer noted. "Best of all, I was able to share the evening with my husband, Mike, my sons Andrew and Sean, my mom Janet (Orendorff) Staub '69, Donna Tompkins, who nominated me for the award, and Dr. Thiec."

Receiving the Golden Apple Award is a particularly prestigious honor for any teacher in the Diocese of Harrisburg. The award has been in place for five years, and requires that the nominee be a practicing Catholic and a full-time teacher with at least three years at his or her current school, as well as having all required state and diocesan certifications. Also, a teacher must be nominated by a colleague, a parent or a student. Mrs. Donna Tompkins, chairperson of the Mathematics Department, nominated Mrs. Sneeringer for the award. Mrs. Sneeringer appreciates the respect from her colleagues to be considered for the honor.

"It was an honor to know that a colleague thought highly enough of me to nominate me for the Golden Apple Award. It was amazing to then go on and be selected from all those who were nominated. There are so many outstanding teachers in the Diocese," Mrs. Sneeringer said.

Mrs. Sneeringer continues to serve as a model of the school's motto "Be Doers of the Word." She has a resounding presence in the school community, and Dr. Thiec greatly appreciates her efforts.

"Mrs. Sneeringer is a valuable, trusted and dedicated member of our faculty whose deeds emit a true understanding of what it means to be a disciple of God," Dr. Thiec said. "She lives her faith in her day-to-day actions."

DWIGHT SCHLALINE ORDAINED TO PRIESTHOOD OF JESUS CHRIST

Delone Catholic High School prepares each of its students for a life of service to God and to their brothers and sisters in His kingdom. This is stressed in the school motto “Estote Factores Verbi” – translated “Be Doers of the Word.” Dozens of alumni have answered this call in a formal way, choosing to serve as members of the clergy and religious communities. Father Dwight Schlaline ’00, ordained a priest for the Diocese of Harrisburg on June 26, 2010, is the latest to share fully in the work of Jesus Christ.

Like many priestly vocations, Father Schlaline became aware of his over time. His parents, John and Diane, raised him and his siblings in a Catholic household that included Mass attendance at Immaculate Heart of Mary parish in Abbottstown, participation in the sacraments, in youth groups and other church and community functions.

Father Schlaline began his formal education in a public school setting, but found it to be an uncomfortable fit for him. He said that he “wanted to learn, but couldn’t in that environment.” As he was preparing for the transition to high school, Sister Maria Jude, CSJ, vice principal at Delone Catholic, made a presentation at Immaculate Heart of Mary. Father Schlaline was excited by what he heard, but unsure of whether it was possible for his parents to send him to Delone Catholic.

Despite his doubts, Father Schlaline talked to his father about going to Delone Catholic, and his parents worked it out. Because of that decision, his high school years were a much more positive experience for him.

“Overall, Delone Catholic was much better for me,” Father Schlaline said. “It was the simple things, like the uniforms. My class had a lot of very good people. We had class unity, and peer pressure wasn’t an issue for us. There was prayer, and it was an overall happier environment. I really appreciated it. I sat on the bus for an hour-and-a-half each day, but it was worth it. I just prayed on the bus. It was an excellent school, and the teachers were impressive.”

During his time at Delone Catholic, Father Schlaline was involved in a wide variety of activities. He was a four-year member of the Interact Club and the marching band. He also played in the concert band through his junior year, earning a place in the Diocesan Band as a sophomore and in the county band as a sophomore and junior. He was a member of the National Honor Society and the prom committee, and he was a retreat leader as a senior. In addition, Father Schlaline attained the rank of Eagle Scout in the Boys Scouts during his junior year.

Father Schlaline’s academic work and involvement at Delone Catholic prepared him to enroll at Franciscan University of Steubenville in Steubenville, Ohio, in the fall of 2000. He earned bachelor’s degrees in classical languages, focusing mainly on Latin and Greek, and philosophy. He learned from several sources that these majors would be helpful if he chose to enter seminary, but he had not made any concrete decisions about his future at that point.

“I didn’t really discern much of my vocation in college,” Father Schlaline said. “I was formed a lot at Franciscan University. It was a really Christian environment. People prayed together. They were very sincere. The students were very loving toward each other in a Christian way. Something like 50 percent of the students go to daily Mass every day there. It was really awesome. That was a huge formative influence.”

By taking summer classes each year, Father Schlaline finished college a semester early and returned to live with his parents in East Berlin. He worked at a bank in the area from February 2004 to August 2005 as he sorted out the direction in which God was leading him.

“It was at that time that I really discerned my vocation more intensely. I had looked at all the other possibilities, so many other things I wanted to do, but that’s not what is going to fulfill me,” Father Schlaline said. “Ultimately, I felt more drawn to the priesthood. I remember one of the things with my discernment, and the way discernment needs to happen, I think, is that I basically said to God, ‘I don’t know exactly what you want me to do, but I am going to do this, and if this is wrong, you have to stop me.’ I put the ball in His court, and He never stopped me, so I ended up here.”

During the discernment process, the Office of Vocations at the Diocese of Harrisburg contacted Father Schlaline and other young men like him who had expressed interest in the priesthood but had yet to make a decision. They were invited by Bishop Kevin C. Rhoades, who was then the Bishop of Harrisburg, to his residence for Stations of the Cross and dinner. Father Schlaline had an opportunity to meet individually with the Bishop who asked him if he were to enter seminary, would he prefer to go to Mount St. Mary’s in Emmitsburg, Md., or Saint Vincent in Latrobe, Pa.

“I didn’t know the difference between the two,” Father Schlaline said. “So as a joke, I said, ‘Well, I’d rather go to Rome.’ Then he took that seriously, apparently.”

It did not seem that way at first, because in August 2005, Father Schlaline entered seminary at Saint Vincent. It did not take him long to find out that he would be headed to Rome after just one year. He spent that year taking classes that either prepared him for his time in Rome, or that he was not likely to take in Rome, among them, Italian language and pastoral counseling.

Those classes gave him at least the basics he would need while he spent the next four years studying at the Pontifical North American College in Rome. Father Schlaline said that it was a totally new experience for him because he had never left North America. He had been to Boy Scout camp in Canada each summer from seventh grade through high school, but going to a place where English was not the native language was completely different.

While he was working on his studies and formation, Father Schlaline also got to learn a whole new culture and way of living. The ancient sites in Rome that he had learned about in high school and college became real as he got to see the city’s cathedrals and the secular structures, like the Coliseum. Those lessons were not confined to Europe, however. He spent Holy Week and Easter Week in 2007 in Zambia on a trip arranged by former Delone Catholic social studies teacher Mary Furlong. That trip to Africa taught him an unexpected lesson.

"We could talk about the poverty in Zambia. I saw that, and I kind of expected to see that," Father Schlaline said. "What I was really struck by was that I felt more relaxed than I ever felt in my whole life. Not just me, but the people there. I have a friend in Zambia now, and I asked him 'In your native language, does the word "stress" exist?' It doesn't exist. The concept is not even there. Deadline? It's not even there.

"St. Francis and St. Dominic, they embraced the vow of poverty," Father Schlaline continued. "Most people try to get out of poverty. They went into poverty, choosing it. What they realized is that it is a lot less stressful. People don't realize that though. You would think that it would be the opposite, that you would be bored. I didn't feel bored there. I felt relaxed. And when I came back to Rome from Zambia, as we were flying over the city of Rome, my nerves, I could feel it. I was kind of more tense. You've got cars, hustle and bustle, and everything is moving. In Zambia, there is nothing to stress you out. I was really surprised by that, the total lack of stress."

As he neared the end of his formation in Rome, it came time for Father Schlaline and his classmates to receive their diaconate ordination. He was joined in Rome by his parents and sister, Kimberly Schlaline '02, as well as other friends from the Diocese of Harrisburg. Among them were Father Raymond Lavoie, the Vocations Director, Father Michael Messner, who at the time was the pastor at Immaculate Heart of Mary and chaplain at Delone Catholic, and former DCHS chaplain Father Charles Persing.

On Oct. 8, 2009, nearly 30 men received the sacrament of Holy Orders from Archbishop Robert J. Carlson of St. Louis at St. Peter's Basilica. During the Mass, Archbishop Carlson received from Father Schlaline, his vows of celibacy, obedience to the Ordinary of the Diocese of Harrisburg and to pray the Liturgy of the Hours daily for the rest of his life. After these vows were professed, Archbishop Carlson said, "May God who has begun the good work in you, bring it to fulfillment." Later in the ceremony, the Archbishop invoked the Holy Spirit through the laying of hands, and with his "Amen," Mr. Dwight Schlaline became Deacon Dwight Schlaline. A similar transition would take place the following summer back in his home diocese as he completed the journey from seminarian to priest.

Before returning home, however, Deacon Schlaline had a special experience that only a few of his classmates shared. At the Chrism Mass during Holy Week in 2010, he and several others were chosen by lottery to assist in the distribution of Holy Communion at the Mass celebrated by Pope Benedict XVI. Because of the large number of bishops and priests in attendance, they could not all process to the altar to receive Communion there. Only cardinals were able to do that. Instead, the deacons took the Body and Blood of Christ to the bishops and priests.

Father Schlaline completed his time in Rome and returned to his parents' home about two weeks before his ordination to the priesthood. He did so aware that he was in the somewhat unusual position of being ordained during a time in which the Diocese of Harrisburg did not have a bishop. Bishop Rhoades had been installed as the Bishop of Fort Wayne-South Bend in Indiana in January. Bishop Joseph P. McFadden was appointed by Pope Benedict XVI as the Tenth Bishop of Harrisburg four days before Father Schlaline's ordination, but was not installed until August. Because a bishop must preside over the sacrament of Holy Orders, the Diocese had arranged for Archbishop Timothy P. Broglio, Bishop of the Archdiocese of Military Services, USA, to celebrate the ordination. Father Schlaline was a little bit anxious that he was not going to be ordained by his own bishop, so he took the initiative to reach out to Archbishop Broglio and get to know him.

"I didn't even know who Archbishop Broglio was," Father Schlaline said. "So, the first thing I did was I contacted him, and I said, 'I'd like to meet the person who is going to ordain me,' and he agreed to that."

Father Schlaline was scheduled to be in Washington, D.C., where the Archdiocese of Military Services is based, for the ordination of three of his seminary classmates the week before his own. Archbishop Broglio invited him to stay at the residence for the weekend, and the two men shared several meals and their prayer life for the weekend, which was a comfort to Father Schlaline heading into his own ordination weekend.

"We got to know each other then, a little bit, thank God," Father Schlaline said. "He was able to make his homily (at my ordination) more personal then, which I liked."

The day of his ordination was a huge celebration for Father Schlaline and the whole church of the Diocese of Harrisburg. Many of his family members and friends joined him as he became the newest worker in the Lord's vineyard.

"It was nice to have all of my family there, and I really wanted people to be there," Father Schlaline said. "The biggest thing for me, I just wanted them to come and to be part of that experience and to be there with me. The fact that so many people came was huge."

The celebration continued the next day with his First Mass of Thanksgiving at Immaculate Heart of Mary. His pastor during his childhood, Father Thomas Langan, a former member of the Delone Catholic Board of Directors, gave the homily. He said that Father Schlaline's ordination was a particularly joyful one for the people of Immaculate Heart of Mary because he is the first man in the 201-year history of the parish ordained to the priesthood who received all of his sacraments as a member of the parish.

Now, nearly a year later, Father Schlaline continues to settle into his new life as a priest. He was assigned to St. Patrick Church in Carlisle, Pa., where former DCHS board member Father Andre Meluskey resides as the senior priest. Father Schlaline is also the Catholic campus minister at Dickinson College in Carlisle. Each day is a new experience for him as he celebrates the sacraments and completes all of the other tasks of a priest.

"I love being a priest," Father Schlaline said. "I am learning what life in a big parish is like. I get much joy in preaching the Gospel to the people and also in being with the sick and those who are struggling."

Delone Catholic High School Alumni Serving in the Ordained and Consecrated Life

Many Central Catholic and Delone Catholic alumni have answered the call to serve God in various roles in His Church. Below is a list of the priests, deacons, brothers and sisters who received some or all of their high school education at Central Catholic or Delone Catholic. We are aware that this list is likely incomplete. Any omissions from this list are unintentional, and we apologize for them. Our records are updated and corrected on an ongoing basis. Anyone with information on those who have been omitted or passed away is asked to contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or development@delonecatholic.org.

INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT ASSISTS STUDENTS IN REACHING THEIR POTENTIAL

by Jennifer Noel '05

After the closing bell has rung at 2:45 p.m., most students are moving quickly toward their lockers to pack up for the day. However, some students can be seen making their way down to Room 3 for some extra academic help after school. Room 3 serves as the Instructional Support Services Center, yet another useful resource for the students at Delone Catholic High School, where academic success is a goal and a priority. Instructional Support is a unique process for students which instructs and helps develop academic skills, understanding and self-confidence.

In 2006, Most Rev. Kevin C. Rhoades, then Bishop of Harrisburg, stated that the mission of Catholic schools in the Diocese was to meet the needs of a wide range of students, including those with exceptionalities. In order to meet this need, it was directed that Instructional Support Services (ISS) should be implemented in schools throughout the diocese. With the approval of the Board of Directors of Delone Catholic, an Instructional Support position was added.

"The Bishop recognized that all students have a unique gift from God," said DCHS principal Dr. Maureen Thiec. "This includes students who may require some measure of instructional support."

The Instructional Support teacher, Robert Lester, has worked in high schools for special education for several years, so he is aware of the trials that face students with learning differences. Students with documented special educational needs may require some additional instructional support and assistance throughout the school day with a variety of tasks.

"All students will meet some degree of success, but for some, this success depends upon delivering the right amount of accommodations to students with documented special needs or learning differences," Mr. Lester said. "Instructional Support was created for just that purpose; to ensure success of students in the classroom."

Approximately 30 students utilize ISS in any given quarter. ISS aids students with a variety of learning differences and special needs including: autism, emotional disturbance, hearing impairments, specific learning disabilities, speech and language impairment, orthopedic impairment and traumatic brain injury.

While many other schools nationwide charge as much as $5,000 per year in addition to the standard tuition fees for this type of program, Instructional Support Services are provided by Delone Catholic with no additional cost to the students' families. The Lincoln Intermediate Unit assists by using Equitable Participation for students with exceptionalities, which is part of the federal special education funds for non-public schools, to purchase academic equipment and supplies used by ISS.

Students that are involved in Instructional Support receive assistance in subject areas where they may be struggling as well as work on strengthening their other academic skills. These students are still expected to meet the high academic standards that Delone Catholic requires. The program itself is a collaborative effort on the part of teachers and students to ensure success in the classroom.

"Instructional Support has added that necessary one-on-one instruction to produce success in students who have some form of learning difficulty," Dr. Thiec said. "Parents have written testimonies as to the achievement in college, a dream that did come to fruition with the help of the program."

Services help students with daily tasks from note-taking, organizational skills, test-taking techniques and completing overdue assignments. Students also have the opportunity to work one-on-one after school and during study halls with Mr. Lester, as well as take tests and complete work in the Instructional Support Center. The ISS center ensures students a quiet work environment as well as direct assistance when needed.

"Students work through individual obstacles that impede their educational process and ultimate success," Mr. Lester said. "Students with learning difficulties never outgrow them. It is hoped that we can help students develop learning processes and strategies that offset the devastating effects of an academic life cloaked by a learning difficulty."

ISS provides for the needs of all students as appropriate. The program is not limited to those students with documented learning differences. Students who are struggling academically for other reasons are often referred by parents, counselors and teachers and even seek extra help themselves through learning support. In this case, students are considered special interest.

"As any other teacher would, we want our students to reach their potential, at whatever level that might be and be successful," Mr. Lester said. "I often remind students success has many levels and to remember sometimes the journey is more important than the destination."

The Delone Catholic Alumni Association continues to search for ways to get alumni together and involved in their alma mater throughout the year. Several of the recently-established traditions will again take place this year. We are also looking for ideas from alumni of all ages concerning activities that would interest them. All alumni are invited to attend each meeting of the Alumni Association to find out what is happening and help plan our future events. We extend a special invitation to all alumni for the next meeting, which is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 8 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Due to inclement weather on the night of the February meeting, this will again be in a Town Hall format where the entire agenda will focus on suggestions and feedback from our membership. For more information on events being planned for the upcoming year, please visit www.delonecatholic.org or stop by the Alumni Association tent which will be set up for several home football games in the fall. Officers and active members of the Association can be found at the Sheppard Gym end of J.T. Flaherty Field.

Alumni Association Membership Cards Available

When the Alumni Association re-formed in January 2008, one of the first events it planned was the breakfast for the graduating seniors. At this event, the officers and active members of the Association presented them with a gift and their Alumni Association membership cards. These cards were originally intended to be keepsakes, but since, there have been several initiatives that have added value to them.

For the last two years, any alumnus presenting his or her Alumni Association membership card has gained free admission to the homecoming football game. As we continue to grow, other benefits will be made available to card holders.

All alumni of Delone Catholic High School, whether they graduated or not, are automatically members of the Alumni Association. Any alumnus who is interested in receiving his or her card can order it by signing up at any Alumni Association event or at the Alumni Association tent at a home football game. You may also call the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or 211 to request that your card is ordered. There is no cost to receive the card. They are ordered in batches of 100-200, so please allow up to three months for delivery. Over the summer, any Alumni Association card that has been requested but not claimed will be mailed.

Class of 2011 to Join Association Ranks

All alumni are welcome to join the Alumni Association in welcoming the Class of 2011 as our newest members. The annual breakfast will take place on Thursday, May 26 in the cafeteria. The class will assemble for its class photo and then join us in the cafeteria for refreshments before heading to St. Joseph Church in Hanover for Baccalaureate practice. Anyone planning to attend should be in the cafeteria at 8:30 a.m.

Homecoming 2011 and the 4th-Annual Alumni Mass and Communion Breakfast

Plan ahead – Homecoming 2011 will be here before you know it! The DCHS Alumni Association will be on hand to help celebrate the weekend again. The football game will be played Friday, Oct. 7 against Bermudian Springs at 7 p.m. In addition to the introduction of the homecoming court and the crowning of the king and queen, the Alumni Association will have a tent at J.T. Flaherty Field to welcome alumni back to Delone Catholic. We will also be helping the Class of 1961 celebrate its 50th Reunion that weekend.

The Alumni Mass and Breakfast will be held on Sunday morning as well. In addition to the senior breakfast at which we welcome our new members, the Mass is one of the real highlights of the year for the Alumni Association.

The full slate of homecoming activities will be available at www.delonecatholic.org once plans are finalized.

Class Representatives Needed

The Alumni Association is still looking for class representatives for a number of classes. Each class representative is asked to attend as many of the Association's general meetings as possible – there are usually five per year – and keep their classmates informed of upcoming events. Even if your class already has a representative, please join us! We are always looking for new ideas, and there is no limit to the number of representatives each class can have. If you are interested in serving as a class rep, please contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or 211, or come to the next general meeting on Monday, Aug. 8 at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Alumni Association Seeks to Honor Military Veterans

As one of its ongoing projects, the Alumni Association seeks to honor those DCHS alumni – graduates and non-graduates – who have served their country as members of the Armed Forces. Through various sources, including newspaper articles, obituaries and class reunion directories, we have been able to start compiling this information.

We are asking any alumnus, or their family members, who has served in any branch of the military to contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or development@delonecatholic.org with the following information:

- Full Name (Maiden, if applicable)
- Class
- Branch of the Military
- Term of Service (for example, 1943-45)
- Rank at Discharge (or current rank)
- Any combat deployments
- Any awards/medals received

Can't Make it Back to DCHS, But Still Want to Stay Connected?

We recognize that many of our alumni are scattered throughout the country and around the world and cannot get to McSherrystown for our events. If this is the situation in which you find yourself, but you would still like to stay connected with fellow Squires and Squirettes, have you considered starting a satellite chapter of the Alumni Association?

There are many states and metropolitan areas throughout the United States that have high concentrations of Delone Catholic alumni. Besides the obvious areas like Adams and York Counties in Pennsylvania and Carroll County in Maryland, there are large numbers of alumni in the Philadelphia area, all over Maryland, in the Washington, D.C., area, and in states such as Arizona, California, Colorado and Florida to name a few.

If you would like to bring these groups or others together, or formalize reunions you are already having, the Alumni Association officers would like to help. Please contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations with your name and contact information to begin this process.

- reunion news

Will you be having a class reunion in 2011 or 2012? Even if it is not an anniversary that ends in a "0" or a "5", please let us know. Many classes are now getting together every year or every other year. If you are the coordinator of a reunion, please contact us with your information so that we can provide you with updated information on your classmates. We'll also include your information on our website so those who are interested can find out what is being planned! Please call the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or 211, so we can help you get the word out. You may also contact us by email at development@delonecatholic.org or by mail to Delone Catholic High School, Office of Development and Alumni Relations, 140 South Oxford Avenue, McSherrystown, PA 17344. For the upcoming year, we have not heard from the Classes of 1941, 1946, 1986, 1991 and 1996.

Breanne Robinson '11 is the first known fourth-generation graduate of Delone Catholic. Thomas B. Redding, Sr. '42 (great-grandfather), Edith (Redding) Weaver '65 (grandmother) and Kimberly (Weaver) Robinson '85 (mother) represent the first three generations of her family who earned a high school diploma from Delone Catholic.

Another Member of the Fourth Generation Uncovered

In the Fall 2008 issue of Delone Today, it was noted that Delone Catholic had confirmed a fourth-generation student among its enrollees. Lynneah Smith '12, joined her parents, Michael Smith '86 and Holly (Staub) Smith '89, her grandparents, Patrick '67 and Janet M. (Orendorff) Staub '69, and her great-grandmother, Evelyn (Billman) Staub '41, among those who have been educated here.

This feature prompted contact from the family of another fourth-generation student. Breanne Robinson '11, a member of this year's senior class, established the Fourth-Generation Club at least a year earlier than was originally thought. Her great-grandfather, Thomas Redding, Sr. '42 was a student when the school's doors opened. His daughter, Edith (Redding) Weaver '65, and her daughter, Kimberly (Weaver) Robinson '85, each represent a generation of Delone Catholic students in that family tree.

We at Delone Catholic are extremely pleased that after 70 years, families continue to choose our school for their education! In the coming years, this is sure to become a more common occurrence, but it will be no less exciting each time it happens. Anyone else who is a fourth-generation student, especially those we may have missed before Breanne and Lynneah, is asked to contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 211 to provide the names and graduation years of the person in each generation.

McFarland Reaches Milestone in Association With DCHS

Dave McFarland has seen much of what goes on at Delone Catholic through the lens of his camera for over three decades. In 2010, he marked a personal milestone with the school. After working at another local studio for several years, he opened Hanover Studio of Photography in 1985.

Over the course of the last quarter century, Mr. McFarland has not missed much at the school. He has covered Masses, assemblies, dances, proms, sporting events, pep rallies, spirit weeks, team photos and senior portraits for the yearbook among many, many other events. The vast majority of the photography that has been used in Delone Catholic publications during that time has been his work. Several times over the years, he has also shared his insights into photography with interested students during the school's biennial Career Day.

Everyone at Delone Catholic would like to thank Mr. McFarland for his dedication, patience and flexibility over the years! He has often come to school on a moment's notice and given up evenings and weekends at home to make sure our activities are documented for future generations. Again, thank you, Mr. McFarland, for all you do for Delone Catholic! We look forward to continuing our relationship with you long into the future.

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends of Delone Catholic High School,

The 70th Anniversary celebration in September was truly a wonderful time for Delone Catholic High School! It allowed us to look back fondly and with deep gratitude to God and to all those who helped our school get to this point. While we never forget our past, we have again shifted our focus to the future, and what a bright future it is!

In her message, Dr. Thiec announced that the Diocese of Harrisburg has approved our plan to begin the first phase of renovations this summer. This project is only possible because of the many generous donors to Delone's Diamond Decade Initiative, the first capital campaign in Delone Catholic history. We thank them for their continued belief in our mission and their willingness to share their gifts to improve our facilities!

Not only are we preparing for all the work that will go on this summer, but the Building and Grounds Committee is hard at work planning the next steps of this project which will ultimately address each area of the school building. Because of lower construction costs than the initial estimates projected, wise decisions throughout the planning process and the overwhelming financial response of our extended Delone Catholic family, we are poised to move ahead to parts of Phase II much sooner than anticipated. The commitment portion of Phase I will officially close on June 30. If you have not yet contributed and would like to help push us further into the Phase II work, we certainly welcome your participation in this effort!

You may notice that this issue of Delone Today is thicker than usual, and there was a longer gap between issues. Neither of these observations is an illusion, and they are not lost on us here at Delone Catholic. Because of the overwhelming time commitment required to conduct Delone's Diamond Decade Initiative, we have decided to make the Spring 2011 edition a double issue. The everyday work and accomplishments of our students, administration, faculty, staff and alumni have not stopped through this process. As you will see in these pages, the Delone Catholic family continues to make amazing contributions to the world around them! We at Delone Catholic are so grateful to our entire family for all they do to make us proud!

As you will see in the 2009-10 Honor Roll of Donors on the next several pages, it is obvious that we are greatly indebted to so many people who make what we do possible. Thank you for your continued investment in your high school. What we do would not be possible without you!

May the blessings of the Risen Christ and the joys of the Easter Season be yours!

This report lists all those who made a gift to Delone Catholic High School during the 2009-10 fiscal year. The list is based on records in the Delone Catholic High School Office of Development and Alumni Relations from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010. If you made a gift and you cannot locate your name in this report, please contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations by phone at 717-637-5969, Ext. 211 or in writing to Office of Development and Alumni Relations, Delone Catholic High School, 140 South Oxford Avenue, McSherrystown, PA 17344. Donors who were inadvertently omitted will be published in future issues of Delone Today. Any gifts received after June 30, 2010 will be considered part of the 2010-11 Honor Roll of Donors.

In previous years, this report included only annual giving. Because Delone Catholic is in the midst of Delone's Diamond Decade Initiative (DDDI) Phase I, the school's first-ever capital campaign, it has been determined that all giving, regardless of purpose, will be reported each year in Delone Today. It should be noted that in the case of pledges, only payments actually received during the 2009-10 fiscal year are counted in this report. Future payments will be reported in the year in which they are made. Also, a complete list of DDDI donors for the life of that campaign will be published at a later date.

Another change to note for the 2009-10 Honor Roll of Donors report is the manner in which income for extracurricular activities is counted. In prior years, it was included in the bottom line with gifts from all benefactors. Because a large percentage of the Athletic Association income is from ticket sales to games, and much of the Music Association income is from the annual carnival, these figures will not be added to the bottom line. They will still be listed for informational purposes, however. PLEASE NOTE: Income from tuition is NOT used to fund any of Delone Catholic's extracurricular activities. These activities are funded through fees paid by each participant, as well as fundraising done by many volunteers who contribute thousands of hours of their time each year.

A heartfelt thank you from everyone at Delone Catholic to all who contributed to the school in any way during the 2009-10 year! Your selfless generosity and willingness to share the gifts with which God has blessed you is what allows Delone Catholic to thrive each year!

As you know, giving of any kind is greatly appreciated and needed by Delone Catholic High School. Unrestricted funds help with the day-to-day expenses, including but not limited to tuition assistance, community and alumni outreach and programs for students, such as Career Day. Restricted giving helps in ways which are meaningful to a particular benefactor. One of the most common destinations for restricted giving is tuition assistance for students at Delone Catholic. This is just one of many areas to which a gift can be designated. Capital giving is a specialized subset of restricted giving, with which many of our benefactors have become familiar during the DDDI campaign. There are many different methods for giving in each of these categories. If you or someone you know has questions about giving to Delone Catholic, please contact the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201 or at development@delonecatholic.org.

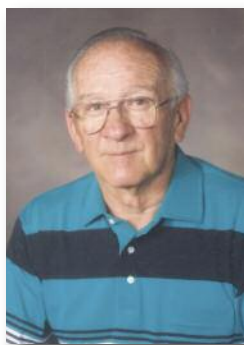

Again, thank you to all who work with us in any way to provide a Delone Catholic education to the young people of South Central Pennsylvania and Northern Maryland. With your continued help, students of today and tomorrow can continue to make valuable contributions to church, community and country!

HENNY NOEL MEMORIAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

– LOOKING BACK, LOOKING AHEAD

The 17th-Annual Henny Noel Memorial Golf Tournament was the most successful in recent memory. On June 12, 2010, a nearly-full field of 143 golfers enjoyed great weather at Cedar Ridge Golf Course while competing for nearly $1,100 in cash prizes as well as in a variety of hole contests to benefit the Delone Catholic High School Tuition Assistance Fund. The event is held every June in memory of Henny Noel '46, who spent many years as a dedicated custodian at the school.

Everyone at Delone Catholic would like to thank all those who participated in any way to make the 2010 edition an overwhelming success. Specifically, thanks goes to our golfers, sponsors, volunteers and the organizing committee. Thanks to all of your efforts, we raised more than $11,400 to help make financial aid grants available to Delone Catholic families who qualify for tuition assistance. That figure is nearly double what was raised in 2009!

This tuition assistance fund is a tremendous tribute to Henny Noel, a man whose lifetime of dedication meant so much to the school family. We offer a heartfelt thanks to all those who so generously gave of themselves to participate in the 2010 tournament. You have given a valuable gift to young men and women who otherwise would not be attending Delone Catholic High School.

Please mark your calendars for the 18th-Annual Henny Noel Memorial Golf Tournament. The event will again be held at Cedar Ridge on Saturday, June 11, 2011. For information on sponsorship and golfer registration, please see the inside back cover of this issue of Delone Today.

John Gastley Scholarship Foundation Progressing Toward Goal

The John Gastley Scholarship Foundation will officially present its 2011 scholarship at its $100 Dinner Raffle in May. Lori Shaeffer, an eighth-grader at St. Vincent de Paul School in Hanover, has been selected from a pool of more than 30 applicants to receive the scholarship, which covers four years of tuition at the supporting parish rate to one incoming freshman each year. Devin Altland '13 and Dalton Haymaker '14 are the previous recipients of the scholarship, which is based on academic achievement, character and financial need, among other criteria.

John Gastley '59 served Delone Catholic in numerous capacities throughout his life. During his high school years he was a three-sport standout. He went on to play football at Villanova before returning to Delone Catholic as a teacher and football coach. Gastley led many outstanding Squire teams in the 1960s and '70s.

The Foundation continues to work toward its ultimate goal of having one student in each class at Delone Catholic, and is grateful to all who have supported the effort! All are invited to participate in the upcoming JGSF events, which continue to rekindle some old friendships and memories, in addition to raising money for a worthy cause. For information about upcoming events, contact JGSF Chair Andy Angel '73 at 301-994-2829. You are also encouraged to visit the Foundation's website at www.gastleyfoundation.com.

Delone Catholic welcomed 116 freshmen on Aug. 23, 2010.

In four short years, they will be the school's 74th graduating class.

On the March

The 2010 edition of the Delone Catholic Marching Band continued many long-standing traditions, one of which is outstanding performance in competitions. Its field show was titled Cirque Du Soleil: La Nouba, featuring music from the eye-popping Walt Disney World attraction. The musicians played four selections, "Distorted," "Rêve Rogue," "Urban" and "À La Lune," that showcased colorful visuals. The color guard performed drills inspired by Cirque's daredevil BMX bike riders, red silk aerial ballet and a quirky circus march mixed with Eastern European bottle dance.

Again competing in the Cavalcade of Bands Independence Division, the Marching Band started the season with a score of 69.05 to take third place at New Oxford. Each successive performance brought an improvement in the previous competition's score, leading to three straight first-place finishes. Following a second-place 81.95 at Governor Mifflin on Nov. 6, Delone Catholic competed in the Cavalcade of Bands Grand Championship at HersheyPark Stadium on Nov. 13. That performance earned a score of 86.60 points, good for seventh place out of 11 bands in the Independence Open Division. Cavalcade's top Independence bands based on scores throughout the season compete in the Open Division. Delone Catholic also took home the Most Improved Award.

In addition to the competition schedule, the Marching Band could be found performing at each football game, both in the stands and on the field prior to the game and at halftime. Delone Catholic also marched in the 69th-Annual Hanover Area Jaycees Halloween Parade on Oct. 28.

Country Chorus Festival

The Delone Catholic chorus sent 13 of its members to the Adams County Chorus Festival, held Jan. 7-8 at Gettysburg High School. DCHS was represented by Nicholas Botts '14, Julie Bowman '14, Cody Brady '12, Elizabeth Hernandez '14, Rachel Hottle '14, Therese LaFleur '13, John Martz '14, Joseph Martz '12, Casara McCleaf '13, Courtney Palla '12, Julie Perry '12, Emily Sheahan '12 and Christopher Yealy '12.

County Band Festival

Ten members of the Delone Catholic band participated in the Adams County Band Festival on March 4-5 at Biglerville High School. A public concert was presented in the Biglerville High School auditorium on March 5 with Dr. Eric Hinton and Dr. Kim Council of Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pa., as the guest conductors. The DCHS representatives were Victoria Bertrand '14, Nicholas Botts '14, Lucas Bowman '11, Matthew Heilman '14, Rachel Hottle '14, John Martz '14, Joseph Martz '12, Joseph Passarelli '11, Malorie Plank '12 and Christopher Yealy '12.

District Band

Christopher Yealy '12 was chosen by audition to participate in the District 7 Band Festival from Feb. 11-12 at Dallastown High School in Dallastown, Pa. Competing with musicians from Adams, Lancaster and York Counties, Christopher earned a seat playing the trumpet for the band's performance under the direction of Dr. Adam Brennan, guest conductor from Mansfield University in Mansfield, Pa.

Johns-Davila Wins Composition Contests

On Nov. 2, Carlos Johns-Davila '13 was announced as the high school level winner of the York Symphony Orchestra's 33rd-Annual Song Contest. He was invited to the Strand Capitol Performing Arts Center to receive his award and be present while the York Symphony Orchestra orchestrated his piece, titled "Panqueques Con Miel," which translates to "Pancakes With Honey." It starts as a classical piece that transitions to jazz and back to classical.

Of hearing the piece he had written performed by the York Symphony Orchestra, Johns-Davila said "I loved it. It was like a dream come true. It was everything I wanted, and it is astonishing how beautiful music can be."

Johns-Davila went on to win the senior division of the Pennsylvania Music Teachers Association/Music Teachers National Association Composition Competition held on Nov. 5 at Penn State University in University Park, Pa.

Delone Catholic Students Attend Diocesan Mass

On Wednesday, Dec. 8, Bishop Joseph P. McFadden celebrated Mass for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception at St. Patrick Cathedral in Harrisburg. In addition to the celebration of the Holy Day, this Mass served to close the Diocese Marian Year, which had been opened by Bishop Kevin C. Rhoades prior to his departure for the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend. Ms. Ruthann Pinkos and seven students from the DCHS student council – D.J. Braun '11, Julianna Jutzi '11, Sarah Klunk '11, Megan Hufnagel '11, John Neitz '13, Carly Hviding '12 and Remi Waite '14 – joined Bishop McFadden in rededicating the Diocese of Harrisburg to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Elliott, Monahan Receive Servant Leadership Award

Mireille "Mimi" Elliott '11 and Brian Monahan '11 were selected to receive the SS.C.M. Servant Leadership Award in October. Both students are members of the DCHS senior class and St. Francis Xavier parish in Gettysburg.

The award is sponsored by the Sisters of Saints Cyril and Methodius to honor high school juniors and seniors who demonstrate service and leadership in their parishes, schools and local community. Students are selected to receive this award because they are joyful witnesses, compassionate proclaimers and enthusiastic builders of the Kingdom of God. The award focuses on teens who remain active in their faith and parish beyond Confirmation. They are honored for promoting servant leadership as a way of life in the vocation God is calling them to live.

Both Elliott and Monahan have been active throughout high school in the parish youth ministry programs and have spent the last two years working in the Cooking for Christ Soup Kitchen Project. Monahan also serves as a lector and is the co-chair of the Youth Ministry Leadership team. Elliott has portrayed several people in the Good Friday Living Stations of the Cross. She is also a regular volunteer at the Lutheran Home nursing home and with the Adams Deanery Chastity Program.

Forensics

The Forensics Team continued its growth during the 2010-11 season. Eleven students participated in the Pennsylvania High School Speech League State Tournament at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pa. Jaci Wendel '13 earned sixth place in the poetry category, and Jessica Martin '11 was the presiding officer of the Student Congress.

The solid performance of the current team members was also an exciting way to celebrate a special milestone. This tournament marked the 20th anniversary of David Carter '91 and James Winkelmann '91 earning Delone Catholic's first state championship in forensics. Congratulations and thanks to both of them for the trailblazing work they did for this outstanding program!

Hatez Attends Conference

Gary Hatez '04, a member of the Delone Catholic Social Studies Department, was selected to attend the Wachman Center's History Institute for Teachers conference entitled "Civilian Control of the Military and American Democracy." The conference was held Apr. 2-3 at the First Division Museum in Wheaton, Ill.

Barna Earns Bowling Award

Thomas Barna '13 was named a Youth Star of Tomorrow by the Maryland State United States Bowling Congress at a formal dinner in September. During the 2009-10 season, he averaged 211 pins per game and rolled his personal-best game (298) and series (759).

Faculty, Staff and Students Team to Begin Paper Recycling Program

Experience is typically a better method of instruction than lecture. With that in mind, Mrs. Patricia Marrocco, chair of the Delone Catholic science department, decided to show her students how they can make a difference by encouraging them to recycle classroom paper.

"Ecology is part of the science curriculum, and by recycling, the students can learn by doing," Mrs. Marrocco said. "This will enable them to understand the vital part each person can play in conserving resources."

All of Mrs. Marrocco's classes were informed that recycling was mandatory in her classroom, and the process of how paper is recycled was explained to them. Through a contact that Mr. Steve Hutton, a member of the DCHS guidance staff, has made, the paper is turned into shipping tubes or cubed for transport to a paper mill. All of the other members of the faculty and staff were encouraged to participate as well.

Every Monday after school, students earn service hours by collecting the paper from each classroom. They then consolidate it into bags and boxes and load it into Mrs. Marrocco's car, allowing her to transport it to Ox Paper Tube & Core, Inc., in New Oxford, Pa., for recycling.

This program is an add-on to a recycling program that was already in place at Delone Catholic. Several years ago, the Students Using Ethics (SUE) Committee began recycling glass, plastic and aluminum. This process has since been taken over by the DCHS maintenance staff.

Delone Catholic Students Continue to Stand for Life

A group of Delone Catholic students made the annual pilgrimage to Washington, D.C., to join in the March for Life. They were among the thousands that gathered on Jan. 24 to mark the 38th anniversary of the Roe v. Wade Supreme Court decision effectively making abortion on demand legal.

Each year, the Archdiocese of Washington sponsors a Youth Rally and Mass for Life at Verizon Center, which holds 20,000 people. That event has grown to the point that archdiocesan officials have added a second venue, the D.C. Armory, which can accommodate thousands more.

During the preparation for the trip, the Diocese of Harrisburg's Office for Youth and Young Adult Ministry contacted DCHS Spiritual Life Director Kate Ressel, asking for Delone Catholic students to participate in the Mass. Following a rally featuring popular Catholic recording artists and confessions, Christine Guaragno '12 and Sarah Klunk '11 led the Rosary. Julianna Jutzi '11 and John Martz '14 served as lectors, and Shannon Kreiner '11 and Ali Bowker '11 prayed the petitions. In addition, Alexander Arigo '11, Jessica Bossalina '12, Hannah Dickmyer '12 and Joseph Martz '12 presented the gifts to principal celebrant Cardinal Daniel DiNardo, Archbishop of Galveston-Houston.

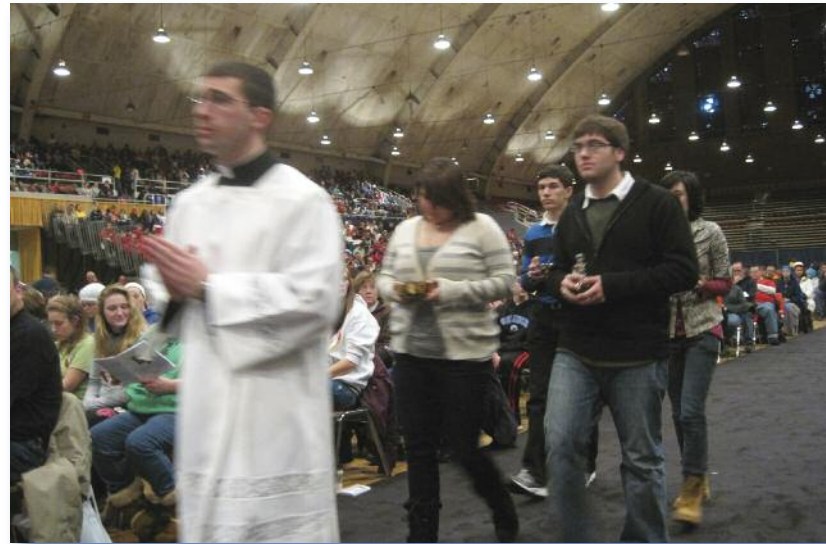

Shannon Kreiner and Ali Bowker prepare to lead the Prayer of the Faithful.

Cheerleading Team Contributes to Breast Cancer Fund

Delone Catholic football cheerleaders Allison Prenger '13 and Laura Prenger '13 found a way to turn a negative for their family into a positive this past fall. Their mother was fighting breast cancer (she has since been given a clean bill of health), so they and their teammates on the cheerleading squad decided to do something for other women waging the same battle. They raised several hundred dollars at a football game this fall by selling baked goods and glow sticks to fans.

At the homecoming pep rally, the cheerleaders presented a check to Mrs. Jane Rice, an advocate for the Hanover Hospital's Pink Out Cancer Fund. Mrs. Rice, who is herself a breast cancer survivor, helped to start the fund in 2007 to assist women fighting breast cancer with daily living expenses. Because of the success of the fund, its benefits have been extended to women with other types of cancer.

Jessica Bossalina, Alexander Arigo, Joseph Martz and Hannah Dickmyer participate in the Offertory Procession.

Mrs. Jane Rice (center) expresses her thanks to the Delone Catholic cheerleaders who raised money for the Pink Out Cancer Fund at Hanover Hospital.

Delone Catholic Students Present Middle Passage Simulation

There wasn't a sound in Delone Catholic's Old Gym on Wednesday morning, Nov. 10, except for the a cappella rendering of the crescendo, "Amazing Grace," by Emily Sheahan '12. Some students and staff were teary-eyed, but all were reverent as half of the school population at a time encircled 125 juniors configured on the floor in the shape of a slave ship's hull.

Mrs. Dana Larkin Sauers '74, a member of the DCHS English department, considered the idea that was presented through her junior honors English class. The students had been reading the slave narrative of Olaudah Equiano.

"They were incredibly moved by its vivid language and emotionally evocative message," Mrs. Sauers said. "It occurred to me that the story was an opportunity to involve the entire school in the harsh lesson of man's inhumanity and to inspire and challenge all to consider the larger ideas of justice and equality as referenced by our school's foundational documents."

With three simultaneous media screens and three student visual displays on all forms of slavery, including perfectionism, alcoholism, drug, food and gambling addictions, the observers wound around the hull, viewing the brown bag-hooded juniors, chained together two by two with brown paper shackles.

"The hoods with only eye holes were to symbolize the loss of individuality and the loss of dignity," Mrs. Sauers said.

During the simulation, additional juniors read factual statements concerning the slave trade, named cultural contributions of African Americans and recited parts of Dr. Martin Luther King's famous speech. Selections of Dr. King's actual presentation blared through the silence periodically.

The entire student body was given fact sheets in advance of the assembly to introduce and extend knowledge as well as to guarantee that the students understood the gravity of the simulation.

Faculty members Katlyn Howes '05 and Matt Loban assisted in the interdepartmental educational venture.

In the final moments of the brief but powerful display with Sheahan's voice resonating, the juniors broke their shackles and all stood facing toward the center of the ship. On the back of each hood was written the name of a historical person who had transcended slavery or had contributed to reducing it.

"It was an incredibly moving experience," said Kollin Ott '12.

Students lay in the formation of the hull of a slave ship.

Newsletter Changes Format

For many years the parents' newsletter was mailed bi-monthly to all current Delone Catholic families. Several years ago, the mailing was eliminated when the newsletter was posted on the school's website. Several problems arose with this format, one of which was that it was very difficult to find on the previous version of the website, and no one knew when it was posted. This led to missed announcements and families planning around outdated information.

Over the winter, Delone Catholic completely changed the format. The school now sends out "This Week at Delone Catholic" every Friday with links to pertinent information on the website, www.delonecatholic.org. This change has been well received as the information is much more timely and up to date.

Though primarily a communication tool for current families, anyone who is interested in the weekly update is welcome to join the email list. If you would like to receive this email bulletin, please send your name and email address to:

Hoffman Named National Merit® Commended Student

Thomas Hoffman '11 has been named a Commended Student in the 2011 National Merit® Scholarship Program. Approximately 34,000 Commended Students are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although Commended Students do not continue in the competition for National Merit Scholarships, they are among the top five percent of the more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2011 competition by taking the 2009 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT®).

Bischoff to Attend Hugh O'Brian Leadership Seminar

Sarah Bischoff '13 has been named the 2011 Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Leadership ambassador for Delone Catholic. She will attend the annual Central Pennsylvania HOBY Leadership seminar from May 19-22 at Millersville University in Millersville, Pa.

During the conference, high school sophomores with demonstrated leadership qualities interact with today's leaders, a group of men and women who have distinguished themselves in business, education, government, sciences, the arts and the professions, to discuss present and future issues. Through these discussions, young people get a realistic look at their nation, its people and their role in the world community. Young people also learn that as individuals they are important and that their thoughts and actions can make a difference.

Model U.N. Lands Martin Girl Scout Gold Award

Last spring, Delone Catholic students experienced the inner workings of the United Nations during a Model U.N. activity that involved the entire school. Each homeroom was assigned to represent the delegation of a certain country, and the members then worked to advance resolutions that were in the interest of their nation. Throughout the day, these resolutions worked their way through committees and were either passed or rejected based on committee votes or votes of the entire body.

Jessica Martin '11 took a lead role in the Model U.N. preparation and execution as part of the requirements to receive the Girl Scout Gold Award. Having satisfactorily completed all requirements, she will attend the Gold Award Banquet this spring to officially receive the highest award the Girl Scouts bestow.

Former NFL Standout Motivates Students to be “Champions for Today”

Mike McCoy, a former football standout at the University of Notre Dame and in the NFL, visited Delone Catholic on Jan. 19 to encourage students to choose good friends and listen to voices that will lead them away from sex, drugs and alcohol and toward Jesus Christ. The assembly, generously sponsored by the Notre Dame Club of Gettysburg, provided students with the opportunity to learn from McCoy's personal struggles with alcohol use and his personal testimony about how developing a personal relationship with Jesus Christ helped to save his life.

McCoy used volunteers from the audience to demonstrate how peer pressure can lead teens toward sex, alcohol and drugs, and their dangerous consequences. Teens and young adults can avoid those dangers though, if they surround themselves with good friends whom they can trust to walk with them down “the right path.”

McCoy then told the students how choosing good friends in high school helped him to avoid making bad choices despite his parents' addictions to alcohol and nicotine. Separated from those friends while at college, though, McCoy experienced first hand some of the unfortunate consequences of alcohol use.

The revelation opened the eyes of some students. Brady Hemler '14 said he learned that “everyone can run into problems with drugs and alcohol, even people who are famous.”

McCoy told students about the positive friends he made in the NFL, who invited him to attend Mass and chapel services with them. It was then that McCoy invited Jesus Christ into his life. He told his audience, “My decision to follow Christ is the best one I ever made.”

Faced with finding the right friends in high school, Daniel Zoumaya '14 found McCoy's talk to be a real “confidence boost.”

McCoy left his audience with two words to remember his advice – SAD and GLAD – avoid sex, alcohol and drugs and fill your life instead with God, love, acceptance and direction.

D.J. Braun '11 helps Mike McCoy demonstrate his point.

Student Work Showcased at Delone Catholic History Day

The Social Studies Department sponsored the third-annual Delone Catholic History Day Competition on Jan. 15. Over 120 documentaries, exhibits, papers, performances and websites represented the work of freshman and junior history students.

Students began working on their projects in September, by choosing a topic related to this year's National History Day theme, “Debate and Diplomacy in History: Successes, Failures, Consequences.” Then, they spent months on research, locating both primary and secondary sources, as they became experts on their topic. Finally, they chose a category to compete in and created their projects in time for the school competition.

On the day of the competition, six volunteer judges poured over the projects for hours, looking for historical quality, relation to the theme, and clarity of presentation. Department chair Julia Tutino and social studies teacher Monica Murphy were joined by Jordan Gouker '04, Chuck McGough, Matt Morley '02 and Harli Ramos in judging the students' work. We thank them for their generous gift of time in offering feedback to our students!

First-place winners at Delone Catholic were: Group Documentary – Katherine Neff '14 and Courtney O'Sullivan '14 (Women's Fashion in the Gilded Age); Individual Documentary – Patrick Lawrence '14 (The Treaty of Versailles); Group Exhibit – Logan Hartlaub '14, Hannah Lawrence '14 and Carolyn May '14 (The Bomb That Ended the War); Individual Exhibit – Caroline Kaufmann '14 (The Dropping of the Atom Bomb: A Forceful Way to Achieve Peace); Individual Performance – Brianne Murphy '14 (The Hutu and the Tutsi Civil War in Rwanda); Research Paper – Rachel Hottle '14 (Monkey See, Monkey Do: The Debate Over Social Darwinism and Its Effect on the Mentally Ill); Group Website – Kevin Carter '12 and Jonathan Klinedinst '12 (Nagasaki and Hiroshima) and Individual Website – Courtney Palla '12 (Segregation of Education: The Brown v. Board Decision).

Several students went on to compete in the South Central Regional History Day competition at Messiah College in Grantham, Pa., on March 5, including: Jake Raville '14 (Individual Exhibit – The Battle of Trafalgar and How it Affected Napoleon's Europe), Mary Gingrow '14, Alexis Hufnagel '14 and Hannah Stambaugh '14 (Group Exhibit – Euthanasia), Klinedinst and Carter, Benjamin Kauffman '14 (Individual Documentary – The Statue of Liberty) and Neff and O'Sullivan.

Forty Years Later, New Generation Carries on Work of First Lay Board Members

The Board of Pastors helped to guide the planning and decision making at Delone Catholic beginning in 1953-54. During the 1970-71 academic year, the pastors of the Adams Deanery parishes were joined on the renamed Board of Directors by four lay members of these parishes – Mr. Joseph P. McCullough, Mr. Charles A. McGough, Jr., Mr. Joseph P. “Pat” Smith ’52 and Deacon James G. Sneeringer, Sr. – who have left a legacy of involvement at Delone Catholic.

Mr. McCullough is the longest-serving board member in DCHS history. He was a member until the conclusion of the 2010-11 term, a span of 41 years, and he still works with the Development Committee. His three children are all Delone Catholic alumni, including his daughter, Michele (McCullough) Noel ’80, who works as the school’s administrative secretary and bookkeeper. Three of her children are also alumni, and her two youngest daughters, Jamie ’12 and Julie ’14, are current students.

Mr. McGough, who owned CAM Industries (currently CAM Innovations) in Hanover, was a member of the board until 1973. Today, his son, Charles A. McGough III, serves as a member of the Middle States accreditation planning committee which is preparing for the site visit by the accreditation team in the Fall of 2012.

Mr. Smith, was the owner of Donald B. Smith Roofing, Inc., in Hanover. He served as a board member until 1986. Mr. Smith and his wife, Yvonne (Weaver) Smith ’52 have four children who are all Delone Catholic alumni, and their grandson, Ethan Willing ’11, is a member of this year’s senior class. Upon Mr. McCullough’s retirement from the board last summer, Mr. Smith’s daughter, Judy (Smith) Willing ’80, took his place as the St. Joseph, Hanover, parish representative, making her the first second-generation voting member of the board. Current board member Teresa (Willet) Altland ’77 also has a second-generation tie to the board. Her mother, Mrs. Trudy Willet, a former faculty member, served a pair of two-year terms as a faculty representative.

Deacon Sneeringer spent the majority of his business career in sales, and he was a board member until 1994. In 1983, he was ordained a permanent deacon for the Diocese of Harrisburg, a ministry he faithfully fulfilled in spite of failing health in recent years. He passed away on Feb. 7, leaving behind six children who graduated from Delone Catholic and numerous grandchildren, several of whom also graduated from the school.

When these four men took their places on the Delone Catholic Board of Directors in the Fall of 1970, they joined a long line of alumni, parents and friends who saw the value of Catholic education and devoted their time and energy to ensuring that it continued at DCHS. Dozens of lay people from the Adams Deanery parishes and the surrounding areas in Pennsylvania and Maryland have worked with them and followed in their footsteps on the board. Their example has carried over to succeeding generations of their own families, who have assisted the school through their work on various committees and with generous financial contributions.

We thank not only the original lay board members and their families, but their successors and the priests with whom they have served for their wisdom, guidance and financial support throughout the years!

Second Row: Father Paul M. Miller ’48, Mr. Joseph P. McCullough, Msgr. Robert C. Gribbin, Deacon James G. Sneeringer, Father Louis A. Creeden.

Guinea Passes the Microphone

“Good Evening, everyone, and welcome toooooooo Squire Country!” Those words have welcomed tens of thousands of fans to J.T. Flaherty Field and Sheppard Gym for many years. Francis “Guinea” Rineman ’45, the man who made them famous as “The Voice of Squire Country,” has stepped down after a run of more than 50 years. Rineman, who worked his final football game during the 2009 regular season, felt that he was no longer able to do the job as well as he once did.

Prior to the 2010 Senior Night contest against cross-town rival Hanover, the Athletic Association and the fans in attendance honored a man who has been as much a part of the football and boys’ basketball game night experience as the players and officials for longer than many of them can remember. Rineman was presented with an engraved microphone, thanking him for his many years of dedicated service. He then climbed up to the press box to utter those famous words one last time before passing the microphone off to Mr. Matt Mackowski, Chair of the Delone Catholic Religion Department.

Though others will fulfill his duties in the coming seasons, Guinea will always be remembered as “The Voice of Squire Country.” Thank you, Guinea, for adding your personal touch to Delone Catholic athletics for all these years!

Francis “Guinea” Rineman ’45 poses at the mic during his final season in the booth.

Squires and Squirettes Get New Wheels

With the sprawling athletics complex that Delone Catholic is fortunate to have, quick travel from one end to the other is critical. Before the 2010 homecoming football game, members of the Class of 1979 presented a brand new John Deere Gator to the athletic department. In addition to the donation of the vehicle, they also generously provided a paint job that traded in standard John Deer green for Squires and Squirettes black and gold. The members of our teams and the training staff are grateful to the Class of 1979 for their gift!

2010 Cross Country

The cross country teams maintained their pace in 2010. The boys' squad (10-8-1, 5-0 YAI AA III) won its second consecutive YAI AA Division III championship, while the girls (13-6, 5-1 YAI AA III) finished in second place for the sixth year in a row. Head coach Scotty Watt was named boys Coach of the Year by the Evening Sun, the Gettysburg Times and the York Daily Record/Sunday News. He also was named girls Co-Coach of the Year by the York Daily Record/Sunday News.

Chris Sauvageau '11 was the team's top finisher in the YAI AA (13th), District 3 (ninth) and PIAA (96th) meets en route to receiving first-team accolades from all three publications. He was the York Daily Record/Sunday News Runner of the Year, as well. David Roth '11 was recognized on the first team by the Gettysburg Times and the York Daily Record/Sunday News, and Nick Poole '13 was on the Gettysburg Times All-Times Team.

For the Squirettes, Emily Resciniti '11 was also a PIAA qualifier. Her accomplishments were rewarded with first-team honors from the Evening Sun, the Gettysburg Times and the York Daily Record/Sunday News. She was joined on the Gettysburg Times All-Times Team by Colleen O'Dowd '12.

2010 Field Hockey

The Squirettes (3-12-2, 0-9-1 YAI AA III) got on the board with a 3-0 win against Northeastern in the season's third game. They also picked up back-to-back wins in late October, including a 4-1 senior night triumph against Dover at J.T. Flaherty Field. In between, the team scored a 1-1 tie against Spring Grove, a scoreless tie against Hanover and dropped four 1-0 decisions, including two in over time.

Rebecca Henn '13 was named to the Evening Sun All-Area second team, the Gettysburg Times All-Times second team and the York Daily Record/Sunday News Division III All-Star team.

2010 Football

The Squires celebrated both current and past success during the 2010 football season. For the third straight season, Delone Catholic (9-2, 8-1 YAI AA III) posted nine regular season wins and qualified for the PIAA District 3 Class AA playoffs for the fourth year in a row. The 2010 season featured a seven-game winning streak and ended with a hard-fought 28-21 loss to Wyomissing in the first round of the district playoffs.

The program's past was celebrated at homecoming by adding another thrilling chapter to the Squires' proud football tradition.

Kodi Reed '11 scored on a one-yard run to open overtime against league rival York Catholic. Brett Smith '13 added the extra point to give Delone Catholic a 20-13 lead. The Fighting Irish countered with a touchdown, but their two-point conversion attempt was stopped less than a yard from the goal line, giving the Squires the 500th win in program history. That history dates back to the 1930 season, when the Central Catholic Crusaders went 1-2. Since, the program has amassed 58 seasons with a .500 or better record and 27 seasons with at least eight wins.

After the season, numerous players were recognized for their outstanding play on the all-area and all-league teams. Reed was also named the Army Iron Man of the Week for Pennsylvania in Week 6 after the Squires beat Bermudian Springs, 42-27. He scored three touchdowns in the game, one rushing, one receiving and one on a fumble recovery.

The Squires continued to excel on the links in 2010, improving their per-round average to 386, a 17-stroke jump from the previous season and 25 over 2008. The team took first place in six of the seven league matches and earned a second-place finish in the Hanover Country Club Invitational. The Squires also set the school scoring record with a 373 at Range End Golf Club in Dillsburg, Pa., on Sept. 13 and posted an average margin of victory of 23 strokes in their five completed league wins.

Dalton Deardorff '12 paced the Squires with two first-place finishes on the season. He won with a 74 at Springwood Golf Course in York, Pa., and picked up a win by shooting a 27 through seven holes in rain-shortened event at Honey Run Golf and Country Club in York, Pa. Alex Hoffman '11 shot a one-over 72 to claim first and lead the team to a 27-stroke victory in the league match hosted by Hanover at South Hills Golf Club in Hanover, Pa. Deardorff, who made the first-day cut and finished with a two-round score of 155, was joined by Vince Statuto '11 and Mark Staub '11 as district qualifiers.

Deardorff and James Sturgill '11 were named to the Evening Sun All-Area first team, the Gettysburg Times All-Times team and the York Daily Record/Sunday News Division III All-Star team. First-year head coach Pete Boyce '05 was recognized as the Coach of the Year by the York Daily Record/Sunday News.

2010 Girls' Tennis

The Squirettes (9-5, 5-3 YAI AA II) made school history on the tennis courts in 2010. After a strong regular season, they qualified for the PIAA District 3 Class AA Team Championships for the first time. Delone Catholic matched up with Wyomissing in the quarterfinal round on Oct. 14 at the Hershey Racquet Club in Hershey, Pa. Despite the 3-0 loss, qualifying for the district tournament was a great experience that will point the way to future success.

The squad was also well-represented in the YAI AA championships. Radhika Bajaj '12, Nichole DePaulis '11, Anna Kaufmann '12 and Breanne Robinson '11 all qualified for the singles competition. DePaulis placed fifth, earning four wins over three days, and Bajaj fell in the consolation semifinals. In doubles action, the third-seeded pairing of DePaulis and Robinson received a bye into the second round where they defeated Bajaj and Kaufmann, who had won earlier in the day. DePaulis and Robinson would fall in the semifinals, but take third place to qualify for the district championships.

DePaulis earned Evening Sun All-Area first team, Gettysburg Times All-Times team and York Daily Record/Sunday News Division II All-Star second team accolades. Bajaj was also honored by the Gettysburg Times, which along with the Evening Sun, selected Denise Dunn as Coach of the Year.

2010 Volleyball

The Squirettes (15-4, 11-1 YAI AA III) set and spiked their way to a YAI AA Division III Co-Championship in 2010. They went on to reach the YAI AA semifinals and qualified for the District 3 Class AA playoffs. Delone Catholic made short work of their opponents on most nights, piling up 11 sweeps during the regular season. They also proved that they could pull out the tight matches, earning five-game wins against South Western and Dallastown. After splitting the season series and the division championship with cross-town rival Hanover, Delone Catholic earned a win against Eastern York and dropped the semifinal to perennial Division I power Spring Grove in the YAI AA tournament. The season wrapped up with a closer-than-it-looked sweep at the hands of Schuylkill Valley in the district preliminary round. The Squirettes lost the three games by a total of eight points.

Faith Athey '12, Ali Bowker '11, Jen Jarrett '11, Allie Mondorff '13 and Nikki Snyder '12 were all honored for their individual accomplishments with spots on one or more of the various all-area first teams. In addition, the Gettysburg Times named Bowker and Coach Steph (Vial) Zortman '03, the All-Times Player and Coach of the Year, respectively.

Ali Bowker

2010-11 Boys' Basketball

The big story of the 2010-11 boys' basketball season was the continued resurgence of Delone Catholic's cross-town rivalry with Hanover. The Squires (17-10, 12-3 YAI AA IV) and the Nighthawks finished in a tie for the YAI AA Division IV championship. They played four times during the season, three of which were decided by a total of eight points. Two of those were not decided until the final shot of the game, including the District 3 Class AA championship game at Giant Center in Hershey, in which a long 3-point attempt by Cody Kump '11 that would have tied the game hit the back of the rim at the buzzer.

In between the classics with Hanover, Delone Catholic found a great deal of success against the rest of the schedule. In midseason, the team was a one-point overtime loss to South Western away from a 12-game winning streak, which was a nine-game run as it was. The Squires also won 10 league games in a row at one point. They picked up big wins against York Catholic and Wyomissing in the District 3 Class AA playoffs en route to their third district championship game in six years. The season came to an end with a 45-33 loss to District 12 power Vaux in the first round of the PIAA Class AA tournament. Full coverage of any postseason awards earned by the Squires will appear in the Fall 2011 issue of Delone Today.

2010-11 Girls' Basketball

The Squirettes (22-8, 11-2 YAI AA IV) continued to experience the overwhelming success that has been the program's hallmark for decades. They reached the PIAA Class AA Quarterfinals for the eighth time in 10 years while compiling at least 20 wins for the third season in a row and the ninth time in the past 11 years. Delone Catholic's season ended in an overtime loss to Dunmore in the state quarterfinals. Coach Gerry Eckenrode's team has compiled an overall record of 72-20 in the past three seasons and has only lost back-to-back games once in that stretch, Dec. 27, 2008 and Jan. 5, 2009. The squad also made its first appearance in the District 3 Class AA Championship since 2005.

Individually, Sierra Moore '12 continued to put up eye-popping numbers. She averaged over 23 points per game this season and compiled six, 30+-point games. With nearly 1,900 career points, Moore has passed Becky Timmins '91 (1,673 points) and Janell (Smith) Fetter '95 (1,745) to move into second on the career scoring list behind Meredith Cox '06 (2,097). Full coverage of any postseason awards earned by the Squirettes will appear in the Fall 2011 issue of Delone Today.

2010-11 Swimming

Sean Fiery '11 added to the recent tradition of Squire success in the pool in 2010-11. On March 5, he competed in the PIAA District 3 Class AA championships at Cumberland Valley High School. His time of 1:09.29 was good for 18th place in the 100-yard breaststroke.

2010-11 Wrestling

The Delone Catholic wrestling team again overcame adversity to put together a respectable dual-meet record. In 2009-10, the team battled injuries and inexperience. This season, the team was forced to forfeit four weight classes on a typical night due to a smaller-than-usual team. The Squires (9-5, 4-4 YAI AA II) finished in a tie with archrival Hanover for fourth place in the division, despite starting most matches in a 24-0 hole. On Dec. 18, Delone Catholic finished 3-1 at the York Suburban Duals to tie for first place.

In tournament competition, Josh Ruppert '11 was crowned the 135-lb. champion at the season-opening Solanco Mule Classic and at the Bubblers Christmas Tournament at Boiling Springs. Ruppert competed at 130 pounds in the postseason. He was joined at the District 3 Class AA Section I championships by Anthony Lippy '14 (119 lbs.), Nathaniel Post '11 (140 lbs.), David Zinn '13 (160 lbs.), Aaron Rooney '11 (189 lbs.), Joe Post '14 (215 lbs.) and Dominic Fiorino '11 (285 lbs.). Ruppert took second place, while Rooney took third and Lippy placed fourth.

All three wrestlers advanced to the District 3 Class AA championships at HersheyPark Arena on Feb. 25-26. Ruppert's third-place finish earned him a trip to the Class AA Southeast Regional championships, where he again placed third en route to a seventh-place performance in the state tournament. He became the latest in a long line of Squire wrestlers to pick up a state medal.

Former Squires Inducted into Halls of Fame

The Adams County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame inducted eight individuals into its membership in the Class of 2010 on a night that was colored in black and gold. Six members of the class have ties to Delone Catholic High School.

At a dinner on Nov. 17 at the Dobbin House in Gettysburg, former Squire athletes Keith Bevenour '83 (baseball), Jack Greenholt '69 (baseball), Tony Koontz '84 (wrestling), Gardy Lawrence '69 (football) and Tim Kotula '81 (baseball) received the county's highest athletic honor. Former Delone Catholic head football coach Denny Frew was also inducted that night. Koontz received a double honor this year, also gaining admittance to the Pennsylvania Wrestling Coaches Association Hall of Fame in March.

Former Squirette Mentor Reaches Career Milestone

Former Delone Catholic faculty member and girls' basketball coach Mary Fleig hit a major coaching plateau at the collegiate level this winter. In her 21st season as the head women's basketball coach at Millersville University in Millersville, Pa., Fleig notched her 500th win on Dec. 30 against Merrimack College. This year's squad finished 22-7, falling in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference semifinal, and qualified for the NCAA Division II tournament. Fleig posted a 122-60 mark in seven seasons at Franklin & Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa., and is now 393-195 at Millersville.

Remember Delone Catholic in Your Estate Planning

Delone Catholic High School invites all of our alumni, parents, past parents and friends to remember the school in your estate planning. Delone Catholic's presence in the Conewago Valley for the past 70 years has been made possible by the extraordinary generosity of philanthropists like Mr. Charles J. Delone, Esq., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Sheppard. We also could not continue to educate our young people without the year-in and year-out support from the parishes of the Adams Deanery and all of those who contribute to the Annual Fund.

If you would like more information on how you can include Delone Catholic High School in your estate planning, please call Eric Lawrence in the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at 717-637-5969, Ext. 201. Please consider being a part of continuing what others have so generously begun.
