"Mama was my greatest teacher, a teacher of compassion, love and fearlessness. If love is sweet as a flower, then my mother is that sweet flower of love." Stevie Wonder

This Sunday, May 12th, is Mother's Day. Happy Mother's Day to all of our A & D parents!!!

The following is a history of the holiday:

Given the following possibilities, how many of us could pick the right answer?

Mother's Day began:

- In 1858, when Anna Jarvis, a young Appalachian homemaker, organized "Mother's Work Days" to improve the sanitation and avert deaths from disease-bearing insects and seepage of polluted water.

- In 1872, when Boston poet, pacifist and women's suffragist Julia Ward Howe established a special day for mothers

--and for peace-- not long after the bloody Franco-Prussian War.

- In 1905, when Anna Jarvis died. Her daughter, also named Anna, decided to memorialize her mother's lifelong activism, and began a campaign that culminated in 1914 when Congress passed a Mother's Day resolution.

- The correct answer: All of the above. Each woman and all of these events have contributed to the present occasion now celebrated on the second Sunday in May.

This Mother's Day - Honor the Strength of Women

The cause of world peace was the impetus for Julia Ward Howe's establishment, over a century ago, of a special day for mothers. Following unsuccessful efforts to pull together an international pacifist conference after the Franco-Prussian War, Howe began to think of a global appeal to women.

"While the war was still in progress," she wrote, she keenly felt the "cruel and unnecessary character of the contest." She believed, as any woman might, that it could have been settled without bloodshed. And, she wondered, "Why do not the mothers of mankind interfere in these matters to prevent the waste of that human life of which they alone bear and know the cost?"

Howe's version of Mother's Day, which served as an occasion for advocating peace, was held successfully in Boston and elsewhere for several years, but eventually lost popularity and disappeared from public notice in the years preceding World War I.

For Anna Jarvis, also known as "Mother Jarvis," community improvement by mothers was only a beginning. Throughout the Civil War she organized women's brigades, asking her workers to do all they could without regard for which side their men had chosen. And, in 1868, she took the initiative to heal the bitter rifts between her Confederate and Union neighbors.

The younger Anna Jarvis was only twelve years old in 1878 when she listened to her mother teach a Sunday school lesson on mothers in the Bible. "I hope and pray that someone, sometime, will found a memorial mother's day," the senior Jarvis said. "There are many days for men, but none for mothers."

Following her mother's death, Anna Jarvis embarked on a remarkable campaign. She poured out a constant stream of letters to men of prominence -- President William Taft and former President Theodore Roosevelt among them -- and enlisted considerable help from Philadelphia merchant John Wannamaker.

By May of 1907, a Mother's Day service had been arranged on the second Sunday in May at the Methodist Church in Grafton, West Virginia, where Mother Jarvis had taught. That same day a special service was held at the Wannamaker Auditorium in Philadelphia, which could seat no more than a third of the 15,000 people who showed up.

The custom spread to churches in 45 states and in Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Mexico and Canada. The Governor of West Virginia proclaimed Mother's Day in 1912; Pennsylvania's governor in 1913 did the same. The following year saw the Congressional Resolution, which was promptly signed by President Woodrow Wilson.

Mother's Day has endured. It serves now, as it originally did, to recognize the contributions of women. Mother's Day, like the job of "mothering," is varied and diverse. Perhaps that's only appropriate for a day honoring the multiple ways women find to nurture their families, and the ways in which so many have nurtured their communities, their countries, and the larger world.

Wishing you all the love and happiness you so richly deserve.
Happy Mother's Day!

What is a Mother?

A mother is someone to shelter and guide us,
To love us, whatever we do,
With a warm understanding and infinite patience,
And wonderful gentleness, too.

How often a mother means swift reassurance
In soothing our small, childish fears,
How tenderly mothers watch over their children
And treasure them all through the years.

The hearth of a mother is full of forgiveness
For any mistake, big or small,
And generous always in helping her family
Whose needs she has placed above all.

A mother can utter a word of compassion
And make all our cares fall away,
She can brighten a home with the sound of her laughter
And make life delightful and gay.

A mother possesses incredible wisdom
And wonderful insight and skill-
In each human heart is that one special corner
Which only a mother can fill!

Memorial Day – NO School

State Regents are scheduled from June 3, 18-23 and June 25, 2019. Students will receive a second draft invitation on May 30th. Final invitations will be distributed on June 6th. Be advised, June 3rd is a Regents Day. Students scheduled to take the New Framework: Global History & Geography II and/or Comprehensive Art Regents must attend school on that day. Students who are not registered to take either of these exams do not have to report to school unless they have scheduled tutoring or an extra-curricular activity.

Our last spring Parent Teacher conference session will take place this Thursday, May 9th, from 5 pm to 8 pm. We will have artwork exhibited in the art classes for the various majors and we will have an architecture exhibit in the Kenny Gallery. Parents will also have the option of meeting with teachers to discuss their child's progress. Report cards will be handed out during this event. Parents will also be offered college workshops that are specifically geared towards the needs of the different grade levels.

Anable Basin - Reboot! The Future of NYC by the Future of NYC New York, New York — On May 22, 2019 at Plaxall Gallery in Long Island City from 4:30 – 8:00 PM, students from the High School of Art and Design Architecture program will present their senior capstone thesis projects to professional architects, elected officials, business owners and community members who are stakeholders in the Anable Basin, LIC area, most recently known as the proposed site for Amazon HQ 2.

The students have re-examined its potential for re-development while attempting to balance interests among the multiple stakeholders and concerns which arose after the project was announced. Four teams of architecture students will showcase what they foresee as the future of Anable Basin through site plans, revit drawings and 3D models and will be critiqued by special invited guests. "We want our students to gain skills in architecture and design, as well as, learn to be responsive to community needs, consider differing viewpoints, and experiment with innovative practices," says Helen Vachicouras, the CTE Architecture educator from High School for Art and Design.

The architecture students representing all five boroughs conducted extensive research and attended several civic and Community Board 2 Queens meetings. Using a citizen-planning process, the future architects and designers are documenting their experience through video which captures interviews with community members, site visits, and their design process. Edjo Wheeler, Creative Director of LIC Arts and Plaxall Gallery had accommodated the students when they researched and surveyed the Anable Basin Waterfront site last month. Plaxall Gallery is hosting the thesis presentations at their venue.

The public is welcome to attend the students' final presentation on Wednesday, May 22, Plaxall Gallery, 5-25 46th Ave, Long Island City, NY 11101. Register online at <http://tinyurl.com/hsad-arch-2019>

A message from Mr. Harchol: Esther Paturel's experimental film Golden Blood was selected for the NYC DOE Film Festival! Congratulations Esther!!!

Dear Hanan,

We are tremendously grateful that you shared your talent and time through your submission to the NYC Public School Film Festival. We know that each film represented a significant investment on the part of both the filmmakers and their media arts educators. We are delighted to announce that your film was selected for this year's Festival.

We had a number of strong applicants, and the judges worked hard to make their final decisions. We will share their feedback with you and your team after the break.

The festival will take place on Thursday May 16th at the New York Institute of Technology. You must respond by 5/1/19 with confirmation for attendance. Please check the cast and crew names listed in your film for spelling. We will be in touch with more details shortly.

Please feel free to reach out with any questions. Thank you again for your time and your talent, and we look forward to seeing you at the Festival!

Sincerely,

HSAD has two winners! Congratulations to Asilbek Akmalov and Tatiana Rincon who both won a Dedalus Foundation Scholarship. The other 5 winners came from five different schools and so Art and Design was the only one with two winners. A BIG thank you to Mr. Harrington for his dedication and support of these two students. They will receive each $2000.00 and be part of an exhibition of the winners' work. Below you will find their letters and artwork:

April 12, 2019

Dear Asilbek,

DEDALUS
FOUNDATION

It is with great pleasure that I congratulate you on the thoughtful work you included in your senior art portfolio. The team of judges representing the New York City Department of Education, The Dedalus Foundation, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, and VOLTA New York deemed your portfolio worthy of a Dedalus Foundation Scholarship.

We also congratulate James Harrington, your art teacher at the High School of Art and Design, for his dedication to exemplary arts instruction. A reception and awards ceremony will be held on Tuesday, May 14th from 5:00PM to 7:00PM at the offices of the Dedalus Foundation, located at 25 East 21st Street in Manhattan. The presentation of awards will be at 6:00PM. An invitation from the Dedalus Foundation will be sent to you and your family, and Mr. Harrington. I look forward to seeing you at the ceremony, Asilbek.

Wishing you the best of luck as you further your education at Pratt Institute. The staff of the Office of Arts and Special Projects wishes you much success as you continue to develop your already superior artistic talents.

Best wishes,

"The Mask You Live In" Workshop Reflection Prompts

Masks hide, disguise, and can allow folks to speak from a place of protection. For this reason, masks have often been used as a metaphor for identity and as a way to explore the many ways that we interact in the world.

Reflection:

Taking up the premise of "The Mask You Live In," how can societal ideas of hyper-masculinity encourage you to wear certain "masks," or perform inauthentic roles at school, home and in the community? Can you see the mask created in these workshops as reflective of this? Consider how the outside could reflect more of how you could be seen by others as a young man of color and how the inside could represent what is kept private or unknown to many.

A message from Ms. Montero (11th grade Guidance Counselor):

Yu Xuan Wen (21539512) has just won the Dunning Fellows and Scholars Competition. Below is the acceptance letter.

Congratulations!

You are one of fifteen high school Juniors and Sophomores to win the Dunning Fellows and Scholars Competition for excellence in automotive design!

As one of the Dunning Fellows, you will receive a scholarship to attend the College for Creative Studies Precollege Summer Experience. The award includes three weeks of faculty-led automotive design studio class, three transferable credits, materials, housing, food and activities, round-trip transportation from your hometown to Detroit, MI.

The CCS Precollege Summer Experience brings high school students from around the country and around the world to the CCS campus to live, learn and study with CCS faculty. The dates of this program are July 7-27, 2019.

As a Dunning Fellow, you will be eligible to compete for a full-tuition, four-year Dunning Scholar Award to attend the College for Creative Studies undergraduate program in Transportation Design during your senior year of high school. (Total value $183,000).

If you have any questions, please contact me by email or phone.

Sincerely, Jane Stewart
