Isai, a current 7th grade student at CMP-EG@BR, got an A in his physics class during the summer of 2016 at Sacramento State University and loved every minute of it.

The Academic Talent Search (ATS) provides academically challenging, fast-paced courses to highly able and motivated 4th through 9th grade students in the greater Sacramento area.

ATS is a non-profit organization which receives no state or federal funds. Sponsored by Sacramento State, ATS has an established tradition of providing educational experiences that are both mentally stimulating and fun. Over 1,600 students apply for ATS classes each summer. Since its founding in 1982, ATS has inspired over 43,300 students.

Benefits

1. ATS brings together intellectual peers from throughout the Sacramento Valley region, allowing them to make new friends and improve social skills.
2. The ATS teaching staff includes University faculty, community college professors, area public and private school instructors, and industry professionals.
3. 4th and 5th grade students can discover new approaches to traditional topics and experience enrichment opportunities in new subject areas.
4. 6th through 9th grade students can experience a collegiate environment while accelerating their learning in traditional subjects like mathematics and foreign language and exploring new topics which are not always available in regular school. Classes are held on the Sacramento State campus, and students are granted many of the same privileges that regular University students receive.

Qualifying for Academic Talent Search

Every year around February and March 4th through 9th grade students are eligible to take the qualifying exam which is held at the CMP-EG@BR site.
