Required Communications and Other Matters

Required Item	Comments
Auditor's responsibility under professional standards and planned scope and timing of the audit	We have communicated such information in our engagement letter to you dated July 15, 2014. Generally, these responsibilities include: • Forming and expressing an opinion on the financial statements. • Obtaining reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatements, whether caused by error or fraud. • Accumulating and communicating uncorrected misstatements to Those Charged with Governance ("TCWG"). • Maintaining professional skepticism. • Communicating audit related matters that are, in our professional judgment, significant to TCWG.
Supplementary information accompanying the financial statements	Our responsibility for the supplementary information accompanying the financial statements is to evaluate the presentation of the supplementary information in relation to the financial statements as a whole and to report on whether the supplementary information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole. With respect to such supplementary information, we made certain inquiries of members of management and evaluated the form, content and methods of preparing the information to determine that the information complies with US GAAP, the method of preparing it has not changed from the prior period and the information is appropriate and complete in relation to our audit of the financial statements. We compared and reconciled the supplementary information to the underlying accounting records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves.
Other information in documents containing audited financial statements	Our responsibility as auditors for other information in documents containing the audited financial statements does not extend beyond the financial information identified in the audit report, and we are not required to perform any procedures to determine that such other information is properly stated.

Required Item	Comments
Our responsibilities under the Yellow Book	In connection with our audit we performed tests of the Entity's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. However, the objective of our tests was not to provide an opinion on compliance with such provisions.
Responsibilities of management and TCWG	Management's responsibilities include: • The fair presentation of the financial statements, including the selection of appropriate accounting policies. • Establishing and maintaining effective internal control. • Complying with laws, regulations, grants and contracts. • Providing the auditors with all financial records and related information and a signed representation letter. TCWG are responsible for communicating with the auditors and overseeing the financial reporting process. Both management and TCWG are responsible for: • Setting the proper tone at the top. • Designing and implementing policies and controls to prevent and detect fraud.
Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Accounting Policies	The significant accounting policies are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. There have been no initial selections of accounting policies and no changes in significant accounting policies or their application during the reporting period that had a significant impact on the financial statements, except for the adoption of the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 75 "Accounting and Financial Reporting for Postemployment Benefits Other Than Pensions" as disclosed in the notes to financial statements. The accounting policies of the Entity conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to state and local governments. The Entity's reports are based on all applicable GASB pronouncements.
Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Significant Unusual Transactions	No matters have come to our attention that would require us to inform you about the methods used to account for significant unusual transactions.

Required Item	Comments
Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Accounting Estimates and Management's Judgment	Accounting estimates made by management are an integral part of the financial statements and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statements and their susceptibility to change. The most sensitive estimates affecting the financial statements are: • Actuarial assumptions related to the Other Post Employment Benefit Obligations ("OPEB") • Actuarial assumptions and proportionate share calculations related to pension obligations • Asset lives for depreciable capital assets • Estimates of certain receivable balances and allowances for uncollectible amounts • Estimates for certain operating and long-term liabilities Management believes that the estimates used and assumptions made are adequate based on the information currently available. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the estimates in determining that they are reasonable in relation to the financial statements as a whole.
Qualitative aspects of accounting practices - Financial Statement Disclosures	Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosure affecting the financial statements are: • Other post employment benefit obligations payable • Pension plan information • Fund balances The financial statement disclosures are consistent and clear.
Difficulties encountered in performing the audit	We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management relating to the performance of our audit.

Required Item	Comments
Corrected and uncorrected misstatements	Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. We are required to communicate to you misstatements that remain uncorrected, including any related to prior periods, and the effect, if any, that they may have on the opinion in our report, and request their correction. There are no such financial statement misstatements that remain uncorrected. In addition, we are required to communicate to you all material, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures. The attached Appendix 1 summarizes the misstatements that were corrected by management.
Disagreements with management	For purposes of this communication, a disagreement with management is a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning financial accounting, reporting, or auditing, which could be significant to the financial statements or the auditors' report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.
Management representations	We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter (see Appendix 2).
Management's consultations with other accountants	In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters. Management informed us that, and to our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.
Auditor independence	We affirm that PKF O'Connor Davies, LLP is independent with respect to the Entity in accordance with relevant professional standards.
Significant issues discussed with management prior to retention	We generally discuss with management a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, business conditions affecting the Entity and business plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement. None of the matters discussed and our responses thereto were a condition to our retention as auditors.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered the Mount Pleasant Cottage School Union Free School District's (the "Entity") internal control over financial reporting ("internal control") as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Professional standards require that we communicate to you, in writing, all significant deficiencies and/or material weaknesses in internal control that we identify in performing our audit. For this purpose, deficiencies in internal control are categorized as follows:

- A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.
- A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.
- A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies, or material weaknesses and, therefore, there can be no assurance that all such deficiencies have been identified.

We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

However, we share for your consideration on the following pages other observations about the internal control and operations.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management and others charged with governance and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties. We will be pleased to discuss these communications and comments in further detail at your convenience, or to assist you in implementing the recommendations.

Control Deficiencies

- Outstanding Payroll Checks

During the audit, we noted that there is an unreconciled difference of $5,523 in the payroll bank account. The amount appears to represent outstanding, uncleared checks that date back in excess of five years. Per conversation with the School District's Treasurer, they have been unable to identify the details of these checks as they not only pre-date the current financial accounting system but also were drawn on a bank no longer utilized by the School District.

Recommendation

If the School District has exhausted all means of identifying such amounts, an adjustment should be made to the books and records to write off these checks and return the amounts to its fund balance.

- Segregation of Duties

During our audit, we noted that the employee who processes claims also has the ability to add, modify or delete vendors from the accounting system. It was further noted that the employee who enters and processes cash transactions also performs the bank account reconciliations.

Recommendation

Due to the limited number of people working in the office, many critical duties are combined and given to available employees. The School District mitigates this risk by employing a claims auditor, even though not required under New York State Education Department regulations due to its size. Nevertheless, to the extent possible, we suggest that the School District examine the responsibilities of its business office employees and consider redistributing duties to increase internal control and reduce risk.

- Special Purpose Fund

The Special Purpose Fund is provided to account for assets held by the School District as trustee or agent for individuals, private organizations other governmental units and/or other funds. During the course of our audit, we noted that several accounts, with aggregate ending balances of approximately $3,500 remained inactive for the entire year.

Recommendation

We recommend that the School District analyze the balances and review the purposes of these bequests so that a determination may be made as to the proper disposition of the funds. Should it be determined that these amounts are no longer required to be held in a trust, a Board of Education resolution should be approved transferring these amounts to the General Fund.

On the Horizon

GASB Statement No. 84 – Fiduciary Activities

In January 2017, GASB issued Statement No. 84 “Fiduciary Activities”. The objective of this Statement is to improve guidance regarding the identification of fiduciary activities for accounting and financial reporting purposes and how those activities should be reported. Previously issued guidance lacked the necessary clarity to determine when a government had fiduciary responsibility for a certain activity. This lack of clarity has resulted in a divergence in practice among financial statement preparers and auditors.

GASB Statement No. 84 establishes criteria for identifying fiduciary activities. The focus of the criteria is on (a) whether a government controls the assets of the fiduciary activity and (b) the beneficiaries with whom a fiduciary relationship exists. A government is considered in control of the assets if the government holds the assets or has the ability to direct the use of the assets in a manner that provides benefits to the specified or intended recipients. The assets also cannot be derived from the government’s own source revenues (or from government-mandated or voluntary non-exchange transactions) and must also have one or more of the following characteristics related to whom the assets will benefit:

- 1) Be administered through a trust
- 2) The government itself is not the beneficiary
- 3) Dedicated to providing benefits in accordance with the benefit terms
- 4) Legally protected from the government’s creditors for the benefit of individuals and the government has no administrative or direct financial involvement with the asset
- 5) For the benefit of individuals and government has no administrative or direct financial involvement with the assets

An activity meeting the above criteria should be reported in the basic financial statements in one of the following four fiduciary funds, as applicable:

- 1) Pension (and other employee benefit) trust funds
- 2) Investment trust funds
- 3) Private-purpose trust funds
- 4) Custodial funds

Custodial funds should report fiduciary activities that are not reported in one of the first three fiduciary funds noted above. The use of Agency funds has been eliminated with this Statement and replaced with custodial funds.

Governments with activities meeting the above criteria will present a Statement of Fiduciary Net Position (i.e., assets, deferred outflows of resources, liabilities, deferred inflows of resources and fiduciary net position) and a Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Position (i.e., additions and deductions) for each fiduciary fund type. Previous guidance for agency funds only required the presentation of assets and liabilities, whereas the custodial funds require the same elements as the other fiduciary funds, including net position.

The provisions of this Statement are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018 (i.e., the School District’s financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2020) with earlier application encouraged.

GASB Statement No. 87 – Leases

Potentially pervasive changes are coming to lease accounting. Under the provisions of GASB Statement No. 87, nearly every lease will be considered a capital lease. While local governments and school districts would most likely be lessees in these kinds of transactions, some might also be involved in transactions where they are the lessor of these assets.

Under this standard, lessees will now be required to recognize in their entity-wide Statement of Net Position a lease liability and an intangible right-to-use lease asset when the lease begins. The intangible asset will be similar to other capital assets by requiring amortization over the life of the lease term, similar to depreciation of tangible capital assets. Also similar to other capital assets, leases will need to be assessed for impairment.

Lessors will do the opposite. Lessors will recognize a lease receivable and a deferred inflow of resources at the start of a lease. The receivable will be reduced and revenue recognized as lease payments are received each year. The lessor will continue to report the capital asset on its own Statement of Net Position.

Governments should review this standard early to anticipate what changes might need to be made to policies, accounting procedures, laws and regulations. The provisions of this Statement are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019 (i.e., the School District's financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2021) with earlier application encouraged.

Uniform Guidance Procurement Standards – OMB Extends Procurement Grace Period for One More Year

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has updated guidance for the procurement grace period available to non-Federal entities under Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance).

The update, as included in the Federal Register, allows for an additional one-year grace period for implementation of the procurement standards set forth in the Uniform Guidance (2 CFR 200.317 through 200.326). Including the grace period, the implementation date for the revised procurement standards will be effective for fiscal years beginning on or after December 26, 2017 (i.e., the School District's financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2019). A non-Federal entity that chooses to take advantage of this grace period must document its choice in its internal records, noting whether it's in compliance with the previous or revised procurement standards.

The new procurement standards apply to procurement of goods and services directly charged to a Federal award. The standards don't apply to indirect costs and procurement of goods and services not charged to a Federal award. The standards have a strong emphasis on procurement methodology to achieve the goals of increased accountability and competition. The changes are designed to better mitigate waste, fraud and abuse.

Uniform Guidance Procurement Standards – OMB Extends Procurement Grace Period for One More Year (Cont'd)

General Requirements of the New Guidance - The following are the general requirements:

- Non-Federal entities (such as not-for-profit entities and local governments) receiving Federal awards must have their own documented (written) procurement procedures that conform to reflect Federal law, Uniform Guidance standards, and any State laws and regulations.
- Non-Federal entities must maintain oversight to ensure that contractors perform in accordance with the terms of their contracts or purchase orders.
- Non-Federal entities must maintain written conflict-of-interest policies if its employees engage in the selection, award and administration of contracts. No employee, officer or agent may participate in the selection, award, or administration of a contract funded by a Federal award if he or she has an actual or apparent conflict of interest. This also applies to organizational conflicts of interest if the non-Federal entity is unable or appears to be unable to be impartial in conducting a procurement action involving a related organization.
- Non-Federal entities should focus on greater economy and efficiency to promote cost-effective use of services during the procurement process, and must avoid using Federal funds for the acquisition of unnecessary and duplicative items.
- Non-Federal entities must document and maintain records sufficient to detail the history of the procurement steps and activities required to be completed. This includes the rationale for the type of procurement, selection of contract type, and the basis for the contractor selection and price.

Five Methods of Procurement - The Uniform Guidance outlines five methods of procurement:

- Micro-Purchases: Purchases that individually do not exceed $10,000. To the extent practicable, micro-purchases must be distributed equitably among qualified suppliers. No bid or quote process is required.
- Small Purchases: Used for purchases up to the Simplified Acquisition threshold, which is currently $250,000. These include small and informal purchase methods for securing services, supplies, or other property. Price or rate quotes must be obtained from an adequate number of qualified sources.
- Sealed Bids: Purchases over $250,000. Bids are publically solicited and a fixed price contract (lump sum or unit price) is awarded to the responsible bidder whose bid, conforming to all material terms and conditions of the invitation for bids, is the lowest in price. This method is most commonly used for procurement of construction contracts.
- Competitive Proposals: Purchases over $250,000. This method requires formal solicitation from an adequate number of qualified sources, fixed-price or cost-reimbursement contracts, and is used when sealed bids are not appropriate. Contracts must be awarded to the responsible firm whose proposal is most advantageous to the program, with price and other factors considered.
- Noncompetitive Proposals: These proposals only apply under unique circumstances. Examples include when an item is available only from one source, when a public emergency does not allow time for a competitive proposal process, when the Federal awarding agency authorizes, or when the competition is deemed inadequate after proper solicitation.

Changes to Government Auditing Standards

The U.S. Government Accountability Office, in July 2018, issued its 2018 revision to Government Auditing Standards (i.e., "Yellow Book"). These changes will be the first changes since 2011 and are designed to ensure the standards continue to meet the needs of the federal, state and local government communities and the public these bodies serve. The following significant new audit requirement was added to the 2018 revision:

As part of an audit under Government Auditing Standards, if auditors become aware of waste or abuse that could be quantitatively or qualitatively material to the financial statements, auditors should perform additional audit procedures to ascertain the potential effect on the financial statements.

Included in the application guidance are these definitions:

Waste is the act of using or expending resources carelessly, extravagantly, or to no purpose. Waste involves the taxpayers not receiving reasonable value for money in connection with any government-funded activities because of an inappropriate act or omission by parties with control over or access to government resources. Importantly, waste can include activities that do not include abuse and does not necessarily involve a violation of law. Rather, waste relates primarily to mismanagement, inappropriate actions, and inadequate oversight.

Abuse is behavior that is deficient or improper when compared with behavior that a prudent person would consider reasonable and necessary business practice given the facts and circumstances, but excludes fraud and noncompliance with provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements. Abuse also includes misuse of authority or position for personal financial interests or those of an immediate or close family member or business associate. Because the determination of abuse is subjective, auditors are not required to perform procedures to detect abuse in financial audits. Auditors may discover that abuse is indicative of fraud or noncompliance with provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements.

The 2018 revision of Government Auditing Standards is effective for financial audits for periods ending on or after June 30, 2020. Early implementation is not permitted.

New Rules for Auditor Involvement in Exempt Offering Documents

In July 2017, the Auditing Standards Board released Statement on Auditing Standards No. 133 Auditor Involvement With Exempt Offering Documents. This addresses the auditor's responsibilities when the auditors' report on the financial statements is included, or incorporated by reference, in an exempt offering document such as for municipal bond offerings AND the auditor is considered "involved" in the exempt offering document.

An auditor is considered involved in an exempt offering document if the auditor:

1. assists the entity in preparing information (in addition to the financial statements) that will be included in the document,
2. reads a draft of the exempt offering document at the entity's request,
3. auditor issues a comfort or similar letter or an agreed-upon procedures report on information included in the exempt offering document,

New Rules for Auditor Involvement in Exempt Offering Documents (Cont'd)

4. participates in due diligence discussions with underwriters, placement agents, broker-dealers, or other financial intermediaries in connections with the exempt offering,
5. issues any attestation report on information relating to the exempt offering,
6. provides written agreement for the use of an auditors' report in the exempt offering,
7. updates an auditors' report for inclusion in the exempt offering document

When the auditor is considered involved, the auditor is required to do additional procedures outside the scope of the audit. These steps include reading the offering document in order to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements. The auditor must also perform procedures to review events subsequent to the issuance of the audit report and up to the issuance of the exempt offering document. Finally, the auditor must obtain written representations from management.

This should be done before the offering document is released.

The provisions of this standards are effective for exempt offering documents initially distributed, circulated or submitted on or after June 15, 2018.

Two types of intentional misstatements are relevant to your audit – misstatements resulting from fraudulent financial reporting and misstatements resulting from misappropriation of assets. Fraudulent financial reporting involves intentional misstatements, including omissions of amounts or

- 8) We have evaluated events subsequent to the date of the financial statements through the date of this letter, and no such events have occurred which would require adjustment or disclosure in the financial statements. No events, including instances of noncompliance, have occurred subsequent to the balance sheet date and through the date of this letter that would require adjustment to or disclosure in the aforementioned financial statements or in the schedule of findings and questioned costs.
